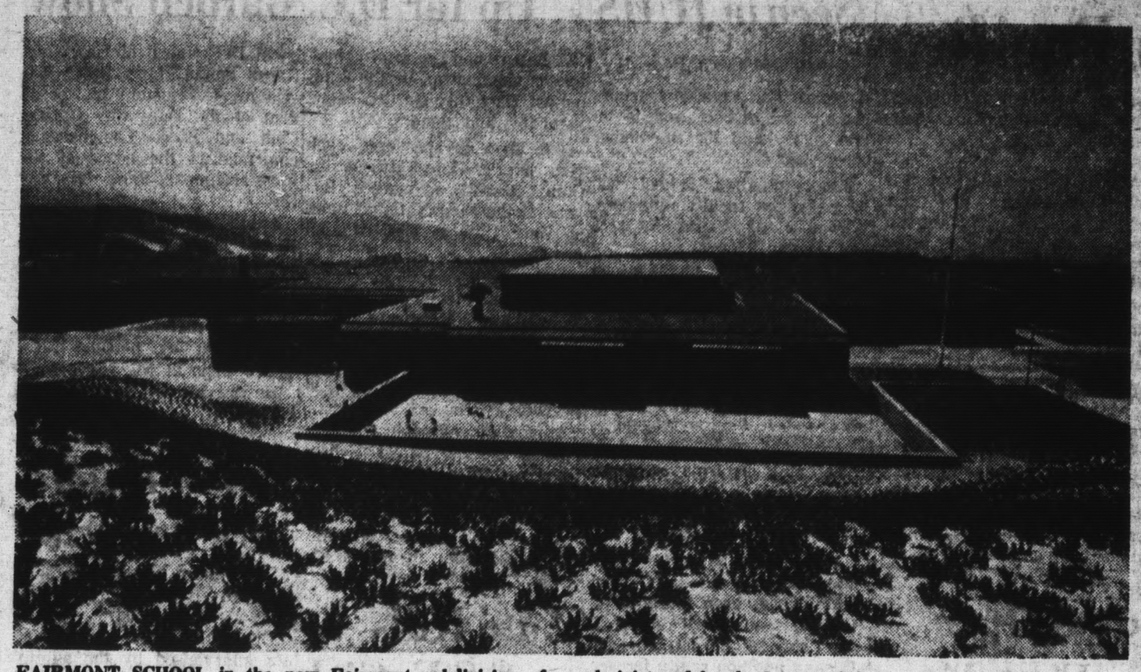
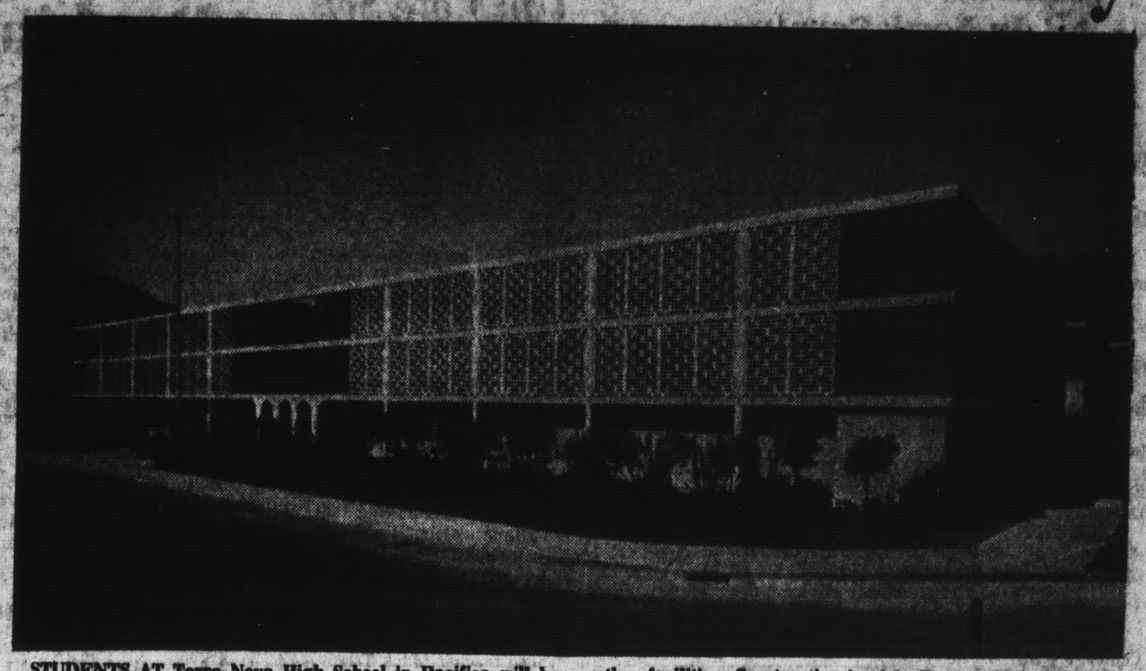
It's Time for the Three R's in N. County



FAIRMONT SCHOOL in the new Fairmont subdivision of Pacifica will open its doors for the first time Monday. Between 600 and 700 students are expected to enroll. The school, administered by the Laguna Salada School District, was designed to accommodate a maximum of 803 students. (Post-Times Photo)



STUDENTS AT Terra Nova High School in Pacifica will be greeted by this handsome new addition when they troop back to classes Monday. The addition includes a new cafeteria and other facilities. Construction is virtually complete. At neighboring Oceana, however, work on an addition will go on through the school year. (Post-Times Photo)

11,900 EXPECTED

S.S.F. School Enrollment Up; Bond Vote Set

By MARILYN BRANNAN

The South San Francisco Unified School District will begin its fall semester Monday with an estimated 11,900 students in its 14 elementary and two high schools.

Last year's enrollment figure was 11,085, almost 850 under this year's new high.

Dr. Paul Nielson, superintendent of schools, says the district has been growing by leaps and bounds during the past five years with no sign of a tapering off in the near future.

By contrast, the 1959 enrollment was only 8,765.

To accommodate the increase in students, a new school, Monte Verde Elementary, will open to a capacity of 500 children.

"And we'll still have to be bussing children in from the Westborough area to be distributed among the various schools in the district," Dr. Nielson said. And he added:

"We'll just have to make room for them where we can,"

Residents of the district will vote Tuesday on a $2,945,000 bond proposal. If approved the bonds would be used to finance expansion of the district.

Dr. Nielson called for support of the proposal. He declared:

"These funds will enable the

New Pacifica School Ready For Opening

Fairmont Elementary School, a new addition this year to the Laguna Salada School Disrtict, opens its doors for the first time Monday as school begins for an expected 8,000 children in the district.

Fairmont is the first of three schools planned in the new Fairmont subdivision. It will serve from 600 to 700 children in grades kindergarten through eight.

Ultimately, it will accommodate up to 803 students in 21 classrooms, two kindergartens, and one library.

The new school is located at the junction of Skyline and the Coast highways.

The Laguna Salada District's estimated enrollment this year, exceeds last year's total by 700 students.

"We gain from 700 to 1,000 students every year," said Kenneth Hill, director of personnel for the district. And he added.

"Every year we set a new

Muni Report Is Expected In 2 Weeks

A first report on the feasibility of extending San Francisco's bus system into Daly City is expected in two weeks, according to Daly City Manager Edward Frank.

Daly City has requested that three Municipal Railways lines be extended to serve the city.

Representatives of Muni met last week with members of the transportation committee of the Daly City Council to clarify points in the request.

Frank said that the Muni officials "explained to us what could or could not be done as far as routing of buses was concerned."

He added that the meeting covered headways—the time between buses on a route—proposed streets the buses would use and the time it would take

School Is a Family Affair

GOING BACK TO SCHOOL is a major undertaking in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Portillo of 562 Crocker Avenue, Daly City. Here, seven of their eight children wave a practice "goodbye" to Mrs. Portillo before the opening of school Monday. The children, from left, are Ralph, 13, Alphnso, 10, Sonia, 9, Tony, 8, George, 7, Henry, 6 and Annette, 5. Ralph will enter Jefferson High School. The others are enrolled at Crocker School. Record Total Registration Seen in JUHS

By LOUANNE HEATH

The number of students enrolled in the four high schools of the Jefferson Union High School District will continue to spiral upward this fall. A total of 5,903 are anticipated by the end of next week. School opens Monday.

This year's record enrollment exceeds the old record, set during the 1963-64 year by more than 380 students, according to the district's administrative assistant, Richard Coltrell.

The end of the first week last year found the district housing 5,522 young people on the Jefferson, Westmoor, Terra Nova and Oceana campuses.

Oceana High School in Pacifica will show the greatest increase in enrollment if administration projections prove accurate.

Student enrolment is expected to jump from 833 to 1,003 during the 1964-65 term.

Jefferson High School will grow from 1,635 to 1,727, an increase of 92 students; Terra Nova will go up by 78, going from 1,065 to 1,143; and Westmoor will house 41 more students, going from an enrollment of 1,989 to 2,030.

According to Contrell, the district has employed 39 new in-

9,500 Are Expected in 20 Schools

Approximately 9,500 students, a 200 pupil increase over last year's total enrollment of 9,300, will pass through the doors of the 20 schools in the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday.

Dr. Vinton Stratton, assistant superintendent in charge of school administration, said this is the highest enrollment figure in the history of the district.

He added that a great spurt of new students will be evidenced in a few years as the former

Auto Kills 4-Year-Old S.S.F. Girl

South San Francisco began the Labor Day weekend on a tragic note Friday night.

A four-year-old girl was struck by a car abut 6:20 p.m. and died of her injuries the next morning in Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame.

The victim was Karen Littlejohn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Littlejohn of 366 King Drive, South San Francisco.

The coroner's office reported the child had suffered a skull fracture and fractured ribs.

South San Francisco police said she was struck by an auto

Bayshore to Enroll 550

An estimated 550 children will begin a new school year Monday in the Bayshore Elementary School District, according to Dorothy Fitzgerald, principal of Bayshore school and spokesman for the district.

There are three schools in the district — Midway, Robertson and Bayshore.

One new teacher will join the district's teaching staff. She is Mrs. Ellen McAllister and will teach kindergarten at Midway school.

Miss Fitzgerald said that all school yards have been repaved.

She urged parents of new children to contact the administration office for registration information.

Last year's enrollment totaled 529 children.

Annual Football Contest Readied

The Post-Times annual Football Contest, featuring at least $550 in cash prizes, kicks off next Wednesday.

The popular weekly feature attracted more than 15,000 entries last year. The promotion features a weekly cash prize of $50 for the contestant who can correctly pick the results of 15 collegiate football games.

If there is no weekly winner, the prize accumulates up to the grand total of $550 over the 11-week contest period.

If no contestant has 15 perfect selections, the entrant with the most correct games that week will receive two tickets to the Stanford-California Big Game.

The $50 prize will then carry forward to the next week.

An additional bonus prize of $50 will be offered to any 15-selection winner who also is a subscriber of The Times daily newspaper, parent publication of The Post.

Watch next week's issue of The Post-Times for a full page announcement of the football contest, including a special added feature, Tom Harmon's football forecasts.

Water Lines To Be Ready

Repairs on the hot water lines at Westmoor High School have proceeded throughout the summer and the completely revamped system will be ready to begin operation Monday when Westmoor opens for the first day of the fall semester.

According to Jefferson Union High School District's administrative assistant, Richard Coltrell, only final balancing of flow and temperatures will be delayed until after classes convene.

The time lapse will allow the contractors to observe the system in full operation and adjustments will then be made. Adjustments will not disrupt classes, Coltrell stated.

for buses to travel between stops.

He described the meeting as "informational."

The proposed routes being studied by Muni are the extension of the No. 28 line into Southern Hills, an extended route through the Crocker tract and an extension of the No. 14 line along Mission Street and through Westlake.

In an allied development, Frank said the city has received an acknowledgement of its letter, applying for transit aid under a bill passed by Congress earlier this year.

The bill provides federal funds to pay for two-thirds of the costs of setting up a transportation system to meet the needs of a city.

Frank said that he expects a representative of the Federal Housing and Home Financing Agency to visit the city soon to "become better acquainted with our problem."

The agency is administering provisions of the federal bill.

According to Councilmen Frank Pacelli and Albert Polonsky, members of the transportation committee, the bill may apply to the extension of Muni to Daly City, to setting up a Daly City municipal bus line or to helping a privately-owned sytsem get started.

2,600 Get a Head Start

Children attending parochial schools have a head-start on public school students. Their school term began yesterday.

Official figures are not in yet, but an estimated 2,600 pupils are attending parochial classes in Daly City, Colma and South San Francisco.

Estimated enrollment, school by school, is: Daly City: Our Lady of Mercy, 750 Our Lady of Perpetual Help, 400; South San Francisco: All Souls, 403; Mater de la Rosa, 250; St. Veronica, 392; Colma: Holy Angels, 400.

district to build two more elementary schools, purchase four school sites, purchase options on as many sites as possible, build three all-purpose rooms for the Ponderosa, Serra Vista and Monte Verde schools, and modernize the Spruce school."

Eighty-five new teachers will join the district's staff to bring the number of certificated employes to 510.

Among the new teachers will be five remedial reading instructors who will circulate throughout the schools to help children who need extra attention for their reading.

Dr. Clifton Boyak, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of instruction, said that reading improvement was found to be a foremost need in the district by both teachers and the administration.

Dr. Boyak says the course of study will be directed by an experienced teacher, Jack Trippy, who is outlining a block system of instruction.

Under this system, a teacher will conduct a 12-week session in one school with seven to 10 pupils meeting daily for instruction.

Students who will be attending El Camino High School will find a new Little Theater awaiting them Monday.

They also will enjoy the new swimming pool, completed just before the end of last term.

Dr. Nielson said that a new band and choral room also is in the works for El Camino. The calling for bids for construction of such an addition is on the agenda of the next school board meeting.

original underground system necessitated replacing the lines with new pipes placed on the roof of the school.

Approximate total cost of the project will be $180,000, Coltrell said. Only one other major remodeling job has cost the district more money, he added, the rebuilding of Jefferson High School.

An attempt is being made to obtain state aid in meeting the cost of the pipeline repair, Coltrell said.

Dist. Supt. Edward D. Morgan will appear a second time Tuesday before the State Allocations Board to present the district's arguments in behalf of the aid request.

Coltrell indicated that the district would be forced to place a further strain on the "already depleted" general fund if state money is not forthcoming.

Bandit Robs Sea Bowl in Pacifica

A six-foot tall gunman, his face partially hidden by black, wrap-around glasses, calmly robbed the Sea Bowl bowling alley in Pacifica of $221 Monday afternoon as scores of bowlers walked past, unaware of what was taking place.

A striking-looking brunette woman companion dressed in black stretch pants stood in front of the counter of the bowling alley as the gunman, described as about 35 years old, lifted currency and rolled coins from two drawers of the cash register. At one point during the robbery a customer walked up and asked for an alley. The robber calmly replied, "He'll be with you in a few moments."

James Anthony Vlahovich, 42, of 23 Sheffield Drive, Daly City, said he was behind his desk when the gunman's woman companion came up and asked for an alley.

Almost at the same time, Vlahovich reported, the man stepped behind the counter, pressed an automatic pistol against his side, and declared, "This is a real gun. Be quiet and you won't get hurt. I want the money out of the top drawer."

When the woman murmured something to the robber, Vlahovich said the man quietly replied, "It'll be all right."

After removing money from the top drawer of the cash register, the gunman then ordered Vlahovich to open a bottom drawer, from which he removed all currency and rolled coins.

record and we will be doing so for quite awhile."

Last year's staff will be increased by 74 new teachers selected from a list of more than 700 applicants.

These newcomers spent Thursday and Friday participating in an orientation program to acquaint them with the policies, procedures and instructional programs of the district.

Among new teachers are two additions to the district's psychology staff, Dr. Elizabeth Hoffman and Albert Sharpe.

Fred E. Lucas, superintendent of schools, said that Dr. Hoffman comes to the district with more than 25 years of experience in the California public school system.

Sharpe served for six years as a psychologist in the Stockton Unified School District.

In addition to his work as a psychologist, Sharpe has been a counselor, testing officer and research assistant.

The district's staff of 290 certificated staff members, including teachers, speech teachers, nurses, consultants and school administrators, will be aided by more than 80 clerical, cafeteria, custodial and maintenance people.

Registration currently is being conducted in all schools for new children in the district.

Hill said that newcomers should report to the school they will be attending any day between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Kidney Donor Examination Is Scheduled

One kidney donor has been examined and another is scheduled for an examination, 28-year-old John Schulte of Daly City told The Post-Times this week.

Schulte is suffering from a heredity disease, "polychstic kidney," but doctors say his life can be saved by the transplant of a healthy kidney.

Several persons volunteered to donate a kidney after reading a Post-Times article about Schulte's plight.

The kidneys of the prospective donor who was examined, Schulte said, did not quite meet doctors' requisites. However, the man was told his offer would be taken up if no other donors could be found whose kidneys matched those of Schulte.

Possible donors may contact Schulte's doctors, Dr. John Najarian or Dr. James Hopper, at the U. C. Medical Center, MO 4-3600, or they may call Mrs. Schulte after 6 p.m. at WY 2-4544.

structors to replace teachers leaving the district and to increase the staff for the higher enrollment.

Jefferson High School will have six new faculty members, Westmoor, 12, Terra Nova, 8 and Oceana, 13.

The district will begin use of newly-completed electronics learning centers at Westmoor and Terra Nova.

The centers, innovations for this area, will facilitate new methods of teaching social science, music, foreign languages, English and speech.

The new cafeteria at Terra Nova also will begin operation to vastly augment the dining facilities at that campus.

No definite dates for final completion of the Jefferson addition has been established, Coltrell said. District officials are hopeful of having the Oceana addition ready for occupancy by late 1965.

Also new this semester will be a reorganized administration at all four schools where three assistant deans will assist each principal.

Previously, the principals had been aided in administrative tasks by two deans and an assistant principal.

According to Coltrell, the new arrangement does not involve any personnel changes.

S.S.F. Boy Badly Hurt

A two-year-old South San Francisco boy was seriously injured Monday night when he reportedly dashed into the street in front of his home into the path of a neighbor's car.

Charles Scarborough Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scarborough, 466 Ferndale avenue, was reported in "very grave" condition at Peninsula Hospital.

Police said the boy apparently ran from behind a parked car into the street in front of an auto being driven by Joanne Lynne Sidwell, 18, 272 Ferndale avenue, just at 7 p.m.

Officers said Miss Sidwell's car was traveling slowly.

Blue Ribbon Cast Shapes Up for D.C. Garden Show

A blue-ribbon lineup of exhibitors is shaping up for the tenth annual Daly City Garden Show, Saturday and Sunday.

The show is sponsored each year by the Daly City Garden Club. It will be staged this year at the First National Bank of Daly City at 6600 Mission Street.

Master class exhibitors planning to enter this year's show include Ann Kohlhaus, Carl Olgisti, Bungalow Florists and Mrs. A. Norman Huff— all of whom are prize winners of previous years.

Among the clubs that will have entries are the San Francisco Rose Society, California Dahlia Society and the Daly City Friends of the Library.

The show will be officially opened Saturday by Mayor Micheal DeBernardi of Daly City, Karen Soltau, Miss Daly City, William G. Huston Jr., president of the Daly City Garden Club and Ricco Lagomarsino, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Daly City.

Admission to the show is free. It will be open from 1:30 to 8 p.m. Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday.

Anyone wishing to enter an exhibit in the show may obtain information by phoning Mrs. Claire Yohn at PL 5-5580.

Entries will be accepted until Friday.

Police reported the child apparently ran into the street in front of 338 King Drive after a northbound car had passed by.

The child's death was the 61st traffic fatality in San Mateo County to date this year.

9,500 Pupils Are Expected

Christen Ranch, now Serramonte, is developed.

Out of 1,500 prospective teachers interviewed by the administration, approximately 50 will join the staffs of the 20 schools this fall, Stratton added.

He pointed out that the district has reached a "growth plateau" and will stay there until the impact of new housing developments is felt.

"Two new schools, one in the Serramonte area and John F. Kennedy in Colma, are expected to be built in a year or two," he said.

Dr. Stratton pointed out that the district has no double sessions and has plenty of room to teach each student.

Barbara's Accent Gives Her Away

AFS Student Is Here for A Year Visit

By MARILYN BRANNAN

Anyone seeing vivacious Barbara Vanston with her warm and charming "parents" would think he was watching a typical American family.

She and her three "sisters" Sue, Polly and Jill, would probably be trying to hold their own against 15-year-old brother Steve.

However, if you were nosey enough to eavesdrop on the conversation, you'd notice right away an unmistakable British accent among the casual Americanese.

This "typical" family is a creation of the American Field Service and Barbara is a 17-year-old exchange student from the Republic of South Africa.

The daughter of Major and Mrs. Thomas Ramsey Vanston of Port Elizabeth, the tall, brown-eyed teen-ager was among 175 exchange students who left Europe and Africa August 9 to study in various American schools.

She will attend Westmoor High School as a senior, beginning next Monday, together with her new "sister" Sue Wiard.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wiard of 173 St. Francis Boulevard, are her exchange parents and Barbara casually says:

Barbara says she feels right at home in Daly City for it is very much like Port Elizabeth.

"Port Elizabeth is known as the windy city," she explains. She adds:

"It's also called the friendly city and from what I've seen of Daly City, it is a friendly place, too."

She does say that in some respects Daly City life is a little different from Port Elizabeth living.

"There's no tea time and I can't get over your frozen foods and package mixes," she exclaims.

"And Bermuda shorts! I've never seen such things . . . and tennis shoes! We'd never be caught dead in tennis shoes outside the tennis court," she emphasizes.

Otherwise, the teen-agers she's met here are very much like her friends at home.

"And we have one common uniting love: The Beatles," she sighs.

South Africa, she notes, is under what is called an apartheid system, a complete separation of the races. Schools, churches, amusement centers and all other forms of social, political and commercial life are completely segregated.

She'll Join Senior Class At Westmoor

Barbara says that the violent racial uprisings in nearby African countries has not caused any really noticeable racial tensions or apprehension in her country, as far as she could determine.

"There is a definite Communist-inspired underground movement in South Africa," she explains, "but the government keeps pretty close supervision on it and so far it has not gotten out of hand."

The pretty South African speaks English and Afrikaans ,the official language of South Africa.

"Both languages are taught in the schools," she says.

Barbara's father is a pilot in the South African Air Force. She misses him and her mother, Beth, and 15-year-old brother, Tomson.

"I don't write home too often because once I get started I can't finish and I write a whole volume," she allows.

Mrs. Wiard says her family enjoys having Barbara with them and that this is evident without a word said.

Barbara will be in the United States for a year. Then she will return to Port Elizabeth to attend Port Elizabeth Technical College as a pharmacy major.

CITY SEEN AS HUB

S.S.F. Plans Transit Study

Looking toward the time of possible rapid transit systems operating in both San Francisco and San Mateo Counties, South San Francisco has decided upon its own study of public transportation.

Mayor Patrick Ahearn said he has instructed City Manager Eugene Aiello to gather "all available" information about rapid transit, and intra-city transit, for City Council review.

"It is our intention," the mayor said, "to clue ourselves in, so to speak, with the federal programs, state programs and county programs, so this city will know where it is going in the transportation phase of its growth."

Mayor Ahearn pointed out that South San Francisco's long-standing position as an industrial city, and place of employment for hundreds of residents of other San Mateo County cities as well as San Francisco, may make it an important point on any intercounty transit exchange.

He said the council will review the information obtained by the city manager and determine whether a feasible plan can be developed for intracity transit to serve local needs as well as to feed and connect to future rapid transit systems of the county.

The mayor said he is particularly impressed with the Skokie, Ill., study and that he has written to the mayor of that city for advice as to how the study being made there is proceeding.

The Skokie plan, he said, covers essentially the points of inquiry this city should make:

The scope of an intracity mass transportation system, a definition of the type of vehicle which might best serve such a system, a comprehensive plan for financing, a plan for organization of such a system, and a method of interconnection of the intracity system with the rapid transit system.

Mayor Ahern added that he was hopeful that this city could obtain a federal planning grant, should it decide to proceed with a more formal transit study.

NEW APARTMENTS

Pacifica Council Okays Projects

Three major multiple-family developments representing approximately $8 million in investment, came up before Pacifica city councilmen last week.

One was given approval, the second was given tentative approval and the third was held over for more specific plans.

The first two were for two major developments in the slope area east of Sharp Park. An application for a condominium development of some 200 dwelling units from San Francisco Architect William R. Sinclair on seven acres on an extension of Clarendon Road was held over for submission of a general development plan.

The second, in the same area on an extension of Brighton Road from Hollis Sweeney, was given tentative approval subject to an economic study. The project, on 9.3 acres and consisting of between 150 and 200 units, has been opposed by nearby residents on the grounds it would create traffic congestion in the area.

An application of the Karp Development Company for approval of a general plan of a 400-unit apartment development in the Fairmont area off Hickey Boulevard was approved. All three projects previously have been okeyed by planning commissioners.

Donald J. McMannis, a former planning commissioner, was sworn into office as city councilman to replace the late Harold Feyge.

Councilmen agreed to meet September 29 with Chamber of Commerce representatives to discuss renewal of a city financial contract with the Chamber.

Duplexes Not Needed, Says Pacifica Aide

A new zoning ordinance would eliminate construction of duplexes throughout the city entirely, James Supinger, city planner, told members of the Pacifica planning commission in study session last week.

Supinger said he had eliminated an "R-2" zoning classification from the proposed new law because he feels duplexes do not serve any real use — "they are not single family living nor are they apartment living."

The professional planner said after the meeting that as far as he knows Pacifica is the first city attempting to eliminate duplexes, which Supinger described as "an in betwene use."

Commissioners listened to a review of the lengthy new ordinance last week without comment. They are expected to take it up section by section in a series of study meetings before making a recommendation to the city council.

Another major new innovation in the ordinance would be to make zones mutually exclusive of each other. Thus, no residences could be built in commercial areas, nor could commercial buildings be constructed in residential areas as allowed in some cases at present.

Bana Leaves Coast Board

Edi Bana has resigned from the personnel advisory board, and Pacifica city councilmen are currently seeking a successor.

According to Mayor Fred Bellew no decision was made last week on Bana's replacement nor one for Don McMannis, who resigned from the planning commission when he was appointed to the city council recently to replace the late Harold Feyge.

SAM GOLDMAN, San Francisco State Athletic News Director, is the football coach's dream.

Sam allows the coach his crying towel by building no paper supermen from 19-year-old kids but provides a reasonable balance by telling the truth sans pessimism.

He doesn't tell you the Gators will be good or bad. He merely gives the facts as he sees them and allows you to draw your own conclusions.

Goldman performs this happy service to the press against a backdrop of problems troublesome enough to make Adlai Stevenson go back to rousting Illinois slot machines.

We observed State's first day of practice last week and in just barely two hours, this is what Sam had to contend with. He:

Hustled three ads for the college football program while at the same time talking to this writer, State basketball coach Paul Rundell, and making notes for press releases. Had just discovered that State had lost its radio sponsors; arrived at the field just in time to assist a KPIX cameraman who had come in the wrong entrance and was tumbling down a hill; encountered a football player named Filkowski who upbraided Sam for spelling his name "Philkowski" in the press brochure.

Despite all this Sam kept his head. He kept it in face of the following:

State lost 20 lettermen through graduation, 14 of them starters (offense and defense). Nine of the lost starters were All Far Western Conference performers. The Gators have no proven quarterback, only one returning starting back; no center; no returning starting guards, and only one returning starting end. They have lost the entire starting defensive line except for one position, and all starting linebackers.

On top of this, Sam also confides that: it's about the smallest squad State's had in the last six or seven years they have a rough schedule. Humboldt State and Sacramento have far superior material, and that the Gators must transcend all of this without benefit of having had spring practice.

BUT SAM ALWAYS saves the good news 'til last. The Gators have fast defensive backs ("but small, but small"), a pro prospect in end Gary Chiotti, and, surprisingly, a certification from head coach Vic Rowen that the Gators are definite dark horse contenders.

Which, when all is sifted, isn't too surprising a prediction, considering that the Gators have either won outright or shared eight FWC titles in the past decade and always with small clubs bowing in material superiority to Humboldt State.

As we said, Sam is no pessimist. All the problems he says State has really exist. But never, ever, does he say they won't win.

He has an abiding faith in State's coaching staff, which was nurtured by Joe Verducci, who originally hired Sam.

It was Sam's love for the college and his personal ties with the athletic department that brought him back as Athletic News Director after a year's "retirement" from the scene.

Sam quit for a year because his wife thought it strange that he should only occasionally recognize his four children (and vice versa) because of the heavy work schedule he maintained.

AMAZINGLY, Sam, a San Jose State grad, devotes all this allegiance to a part-time job at which he makes next to nothing in comparison with his regular job of teaching journalism at San Bruno's Crestmoor High.

Having made peace with his understanding wife, Sam's back to stay.

"I love what I do," says Sam. "I love sports, I love this campus, I have the greatest respect for people of the athletic department. I want to help."

And what of all the problems inherent in his "little part-time job at State?

"Problems? Listen. I'll tell you what I told the players at a meeting this morning. Losing radio sponsors and first string lettermen and all that stuff doesn't mean a thing when you win. You win and all the problems disappear. Winning makes it all worthwhile."

"And by the way," said Sam as he left. "Don't write us up. It was just nice talking to you."

He knew darned well that, after that speech, we'd write it up. What a publicity man, Sam Goldman.

PEOPLEO LIKE Ed Cavagnaro are readers we appreciate. Whenever he writes us a letter, he's always sure to insert praise equal to his criticism of our ideas and his criticism is always sound.

He recently took exception to our theory of a few weeks ago that hitting is the only facet of baseball that really can't be taught and went on to mention Lefty O'Doul as an acknowledged teacher of hitting.

Lefty's greatest triumph, you may remmber, was in helping Ted Williams by staying away from him when Williams, while a kid playing for San Diego in the Coast League, asked for advice.

"Don't ever let anybody change your swing, kid," he told Williams. "It's perfect."

Lefty was right.

But what we really meant when we said that hitting couldn't be taught was that the greatest batting instructor in the world couldn't make this writer, for instance into a Ted Williams—or even a Jose Pagan.

We acknowledge that a good batting instructor can improve, say, a .220 hitter, perhaps getting him to .250; that he can take a hitter out of a slump and that he is, Alvin Dark's theories notwithstanding, an asset to a baseball team.

But c'mon now, Ed. If O'Doul was really that good, how do you explain Roy Nicely, the great (defensively) Seal shortstop who was told he had to hit only .220 to stay in the majors but who couldn't—after several years with Lefty—hit better than .190 in the Coast League.

He so frustrated Lefty that O'Doul finally tossed him a toe plate, telling him that as long as he was going to hit like a pitcher, he might as well be one—something else at which old Roy also failed.

We still say that as far as hitting goes, you've either got it or you don't.

Second Place Team in '63 Takes Crown

Last year's runners-up, the Daly City Internationals, won the 1964 Daly City Lob Ball title last week, posting a 13-0 record for the season.

The team is made up of members of the city's department of public works.

The Mission DeMolay Club finished second with an 11-2 record and the Westlake Sweatsox were third with a 10-3 mark for the season.

Members of the league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, have asked department officials to organize a Sunday lob ball program during the fall.

Players interested in such a program are urged to contact the Department of Recreation. Here are the final standings:

NPL to Open Play Oct. 16

North County schools have begun practice for the 1964 football season.

The North Peninsula League opens play Friday, October 16. Westmoor will be at El Camino, Oceana at Jefferson and South San Francisco at Terra Nova.

The league's six clubs have carded practice games with teams in other leagues September 18 and 25 and the first two Fridays in October.

Opening Day of Practice

A LONG CAREER

DENVER —Dolly Anderson, a "pony girl" in the stable area at Centennial Track, figures she has clocked more than 200,000 miles on horseback in her 35 years around the racetrack. She says she began when she was 13.

Registration at Bowls Scheduled

Voters may register at five North County bowling alleys tonight and tomorrow night from 7 until midnight.

Registration will be conducted at Westlake and Serra Bowls in Daly City; Bayshore and Brentwood Bowls in South San Francisco and Sea Bowl in Pacifica.

Tony Lema, 30, won the British Open golf crown in his first try.

Indians, Dodgers, Bombers Win League Championships

The PAL Indians, the P-TA Dodgers and the Hunt's Donuts Bombers won championships in their Daly City Recreation Department-sponsored baseball leagues last week.

Here is a rundown of the action:

MIDGET-NATIONAL

The PAL Indians came up with a perfect season to take the division championship with an 8-0 mark. Last week, the Indians walloped the BYA Rams, 13-0, behind the air tight pitching of Al Lieske.

In other games, the PAL Redsox nosed out the OLM Wolves, 3-2, to gain second place in the final standings. Jack Haston gave up two hits for the winners.

MIDGET-AMERICAN

The Hunt's Donut Bombers rolled past the OLPH Orioles, 15-6, and rolled right on to the championship in the process with a season mark of 7-1.

Mike Valenzuela led the hit parade for Hunt's with a bases-loaded double and four RBI's.

Toy Village finished second with a 6-2 mark. The club's only loss during the season was to the OLM Lions.

MIDGET-FAR WEST

The P-TA Dodgers picked up a forfeit win over the OLPH Bluejays to win the league title with a 7-1 mark. Their only loss of the season came at the hands of the pre-season favorites, the PAL Giants who finished second with a 6-2 mark.

In games played, the Giants came from behind in the last inning to down the PAL Wildcats.

Here are the final standings:

"One thing that no amount of coaching will give a boy is speed," says Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty. "He's either got it or he hasn't."

The New York Knickerbockers will play 35 home games during their nineteenth basketball campaign in Madison Square Garden this season.

Only five holes-in-one were scored on the PGA tour this spring, through the U.S. Open.

MAX RAFFERTY
Plans Chamber Talk

Rafferty to Give Talk

Dr. Max Rafferty, State Superintendent of Schools, will address a meeting of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce at the chamber's luncheon meeting Thursday, September 17, in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

The controversial educator whose running feud with state board of education member Thomas Braden has made headlines for two years will speak on problems facing the state's school systems.

Fred Martin is the program chairman.

Youngster Is Injured

A 13-year-old Colma boy suffered elbow scratches Thursday afternoon when he fell off his skate board while playing near Colma School.

The boy, Steve Jackson of 605 Lisbon Street, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco and released.

Method Used Is Identical

Thieves, using the same technique in each case, broke into three apartments in the same building at 355 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City, Friday and stole jewelry valued at several hundred dollars.

Investigators said the thief forced weatherstripping away from the front door of each apartment and tripped door latches.

Thelma Zappettini reported that a thief had taken a watch, two diamond rings, a diamond band, between $115 and $140 in currency and miscellaneous change.

D.C. Man to Attend Meet

Sanford Fisher of 330 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City, staff manager for the Prudential Insurance Company's San Francisco South district agency, will attend a company staff manager's training seminar next week in the firm's western home office in Los Angeles.

Managers will be given instructions in recruitment, development of career agents and advanced supervision techniques.

Lucille Sites of 108 East Vista Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had thrown eggs against her home.

COMMENT

'Skim Milk' For Peninsula

PUBLIC SERVICE on the Peninsula was dealt a severe blow the other day when, by a 3 to 2 vote, the State Public Utilities Commission authorized the Southern Pacific Railroad to drop six of the commuter trains serving the Peninsula area between San Francisco and San Jose.

By its application to discontinue these trains the railroad carried forward a long-established pattern of downgrading its local passenger service by closing or curtailing station operations and keeping a considerable number of obsolete passenger cars in service on the constantly diminishing number of trains.

By its split decision, the PCC has acceded to this policy which is quite contrary to the protection of the public interest that the PUC was created to guard. The dissenting opinions of two members of the commission make it clear that this was done knowingly.

COMMISSIONERS William M. Bennett and Everett C. McKeage pointed out that the majority consent was "partial destruction of an established service to the Peninsula" and called it "appalling."

Bennett pointed out the paradox of the service reduction coming at the very time when the Bay Area Rapid Transit District is spending millions to meet the public transportation problem of the Bay Region.

It can be added that it also comes at a time when the authorization of a Transit Authority for San Mateo County, the mid-Peninsula county, has been recommended under provisions of the West Bay Transit Bill.

The over-all earnings of the Southern Pacific have been termed "excellent and increasing" and dissenting Commissioner Bennett charged that the railroad would, "if left to its own devices, literally walk away from its passenger service obligations."

IN OTHER WORDS, the Southern Pacific is trying to skim off the cream from its freight and other operations and leave the people of the Peninsula a watery skim milk of service.

In commenting on the fact that Peninsula commute service has been in effect for a hundred years. Commissioner Bennett argues that, rather than junk "this well-tried system in favor of something new" it would be prudent to see how "this good service" may be co-ordinated with other mass transit plans for the Bay Area."

He is 100 per cent correct.

Meandering in Mendocino

STATELY TREES frame this meandering road through MacKerricher Beach State Park on the Mendocino Couty coastline. The park is a camping park with campsites located mostly beneath a grove of trees. A black sand beach is broad and lengthy. A park lake offers fishing and some boating. Best time of the year to visit, park officials say, is the fall and spring when fog seldom is present. The park can be reached by the coast highway. This is another in a series of articles on parks and historical areas within a day's time of the North County.

Pacific Parade

Miss James Had The Last Laugh

Don Miller

School days, school days—you all know how the song goes. Anyways, it's our way of backing into a column devoted to that time of year when the noise level in the neighborhood plummets remarkably after 9 a.m. and old P.S. 13 down on the corner jumps with activity.

Summer and the beach and the long, lazy afternoons are suddenly only a distant recollection and in their stead are verb conjugations, pep rallies, cafeteria lines and stirring contests of Battleship in biology class.

Or has the Battleship of our school days given way to a space age behind-the-teacher's-back game of today?

However, there's an aspect of the return of school days that teachers, pricipals, janitors and ultimately parents would just as soon not see revived each year.

It's the annual campaign of mischief dutifully conducted by those members of the school body who are not quite ready to give up summer yet—and who, as a matter of fact, very often hold out through all of two semesters.

While we will diplomatically refrain from any endorsement of this annual prank parade, we cannot help but fondly recall some of our more memorable days in school when it seemed the entire student population had a trick up its collective sleeve.

It seems the target of a disproportionately large number of these shenangians was Our Miss James, the junior high school music teacher—a kindly educator who appeared to be a natural foil for every student prank ever invented.

Miss James somewhere along the line had developed the catastrophic knack — catastrophic for class discipline, that is—of threatening to send any rambunctious youngster straight to the principal's office but always, absolutely always, relenting at the 11th hour and agreeing to grant "just one more chance."

Since word had been passed down by last year's class that the last chance was never denied, Miss James, it would be accurate to report, was persistently taken advantage of by the mischievous set.

ONE OF THE blue ribbon stunts that had a long run before she finally became aware of what was going on was the water-on-the-piano-bench routine.

This bit of skulldudgery was carried out during the class break when Our Miss Foil was outside in the hallway, seeing that students were behaving between classes—all the while unaware they were misbehaving behind her back.

Someone before the class break ended would aim a squirt gun quite accurately at the piano bench, leaving a slippery area for one to settle upon while making music.

After the class bell sounded, Miss James would return to the room, instruct everyone to open his song book and to follow her lead in singing. While every eye was riveted on the teacher and the piano seat, she would sit down, immediately slide a ways while the class desperately tried to muffle a roar of giggles and start to play.

That's about when the second division of the prank parade would get into gear. Following the hastily scrawled directions of a note that had been passed around, at exactly the half hour everybody would stop singing.

Unfortunately — or fortunately, depending upon whose side you were on—Miss James had the habit of playing and singing quite loudly and she just never would hear her pupils stop singing.

At the end of the song, she would rise from the still-watery bench and inform the class—by now almost convulsed in mirth—that their singing was unusually good that day—which declaration finally triggered an uncontrolled explosion of laughs.

PERHAPS THE most cherished stunt of all—cherished because it could be relied upon to evoke some of Miss James' most dire threats of punishment—was the drop-the-book-on-the-hour extravaganza.

This, also, was always preceded by a general directive, speedily and furtively hurried from hand-to-hand while class was in session. At the appointed hour, everyone acting exactly in unison would drop his song book in bombardier style upon the floor.

The resulting concussion could always be heard and felt throughout much of that part of the building. Students in neighboring classrooms always broke up in guffaws for they knew what was involved in that "thud" and could visualize Miss James waving her arms rather wildly and becoming hoarse as she rattled off the latest threat of punishment for the foul deed.

Of course, whenever Miss James got off and running on how many students she was going to send to the office, how long the class would have to stay after school and so on ad infinitum, the class would immediately undertake a program it knew from experience could only lead to final forgiveness—and the next stunt of the day.

The strategy involved becoming absolutely still, with eyes very wide and with a smidge of terror in the corners, with a look of repentence around the turn of the lips and with the head tilted slightly downward in the classic profile of shame.

NOW HOW, you ask, did Miss James survive—year after year—the methodical "thuds" and the tidal waves on the piano bench?

We never asked her the secret but we think that Our Miss Foil was probably enjoying the last laugh. For if she had really wanted to, she could have sent ALL of us to the office at any time.

That she didn't only leads us to suspect that acting ran a close second to music in her book and that all her classroom was but a stage.

And with that forced pun, we'll go back to singing school days, school days and end all this before we get expelled.

North County Notebook

Fresno Takes A Giant Step

Ron Bates

(Editor's Note: Ron Bates is on vacation this week. Guest columnist Vera Graham reports on the "Fabulous Fresno" downtown reconstruction project. A second article will appear next week.)

By VERA GRAHAM

It was when a group of successful businessmen sat down to study the sales volume reports back around 1956 that the future course was set for Fresno — a course that has turned out to be a giant step toward tomorrow and a pacesetter for the nation.

The retail sales reports were good. Sales and assessed valuations were still high — but percentages of total city sales and total city assessed valuation in relation to the downtown district were beginning to slide.

And here and there the "For Lease" signs were appearing in old store windows.

BY MANY standards Fresno at that time could not be considered a deteriorating community.

Here and there some new developments were coming into the downtown district. And the community was spurred to meet the big boom of population which has engulfed virtually all California cities since World War II.

The reflective downtown businessmen were sharply aware of the fact that a commercial area which "grew like Topsy" out of the horse and buggy days into the era of the trolley now was confronted with the increasingly massive pressure of serving the "Age of the Auto."

Three key figures—now deceased — took the challenge and got behind the steering wheel to get Fresno on the freeway to the future.

Fresnans today give these three men much credit for surmounting what were believed to be insurmountable obstacles to bring downtown Fresno into a competitive position.

They were Arthur L. Selland, late mayor, killed last December in an automobile accident; Harris Hogenson, first executive director of the Redevelopment Agency who died of a heart attack last July at the age of 42. The third was Arthur Eickholt, chairman of the Redevelopment Agency who died last year.

DOWNTOWN businessmen formed themselves into the "Hundred Percenters," later changing their name to the Downtown Association, and gave the dedicated trio solid backing—not that there wasn't a dissenting voice.

Business was good. The area was growing. The district would get its share. Why all the fuss?

But the more influential and preponderant number warned that downtown Fresno had to be re-designed, re-devloped to meet the demand of the purchasing public before that public found it was altogether too inconvenient and too uninteresting, unattractive and uncomfortable to come downtown.

So it was that in June, 1958, the Fresno Plan as a joint effort of the Redevelopment Agency of the city, the Downtown Association and the City Administration led the three to retain Victor Gruen Associates, of Beverly Hills to translate the Fresno Plan into specifics.

The Gruen planners etched the firm outline for Central Fresno.

It was to encompass an area of some 2,000 acres with a key area of about 87 acres, including a mall which would centralize the redeveloped downtown retail shopping district.

It grew from an original projection of a 36-acre redevelopment project.

DOWNTOWN PROPERTY owners assessed themselves voluntarily some $600,000. The federal government through its redevelopment funds added $1 million.

That latter sum was to be spent mainly in providing major underground utilities such as drainage facilities which downtown Fresno never had, using surface channelling of water.

Then buildings started coming down. The old landmarks —granted they were ugly, but after all everyone was used to seeing them there—left blank gaping holes showing the ugly backs and sids of the adjoining and surrounding buildings.

But the gaping holes began to be paved and large new areas of surface parking began to fill up with autos.

The city's Redevelopment Agency in months of difficult negotiations purchased private properties, and sold them to private interests for specific developments.

Last April 1 the first big bulldozer churned its way into Fulton Street at its intersection with Tuolomne and began gnawing at the pavement.

AS THE FULTON Street development began to take form, merchants and property owners began sprucing up store fronts.

To the aid and support of the district and city administration as well as the Redevelopment Agency came the Civic Center Committee, the Convention Bureau, the Trucking Association, the League of Women Voters, the American Institute of Architects, the Fresno Municipal Bus Line, and scores of others.

A feeling of excitement, pride, and accomplishment began running through the community, overcoming periodic setbacks, effecting major compromises, undertaking tremendous and unique legislative effort.

Fresno's "new" downtown was on its way.

The Marquee

Shakespeare To Musicals

Barbara Bladen

"DOING MUSICALS and Shakespeare are almost alike. There's that private moment when you are singing a solo that is comparable to a soliloquy."

The observation came from willowy, blonde Inga Swenson whose portrayal of Lizzie Curry in "110 In The Shade" now at the Curran Theater won her a Tony nomination in New York.

A native of Omaha, Neb., she grew up a few doors down the street from the community theater. "I was seduced by Shakespeare at an early age," she recalls. "I recently read a diary written at the age of eight years old and it said Mr. Wilson (the little theater's director) tells me I'll be an actress, he can read it in my eyes."

By the time she arrived on Broadway, the Omaha Community Theater had turned out such impressive alumni as Fred Astaire, Dorothy McGuire, Marlon Brando, Henry Fonda and Charlton Heston.

But although the daughter of a Swedish consul who was knighted for his diplomatic service had been singing all her young life, she developed into a talented Shakespearean actress at Northwestern University.

IT WAS HERE she met and married Lowell Harris, a singer who is currently appearing as Freddie Hill in a Texas production of "My Fair Lady." They have two sons ages ten and four who live in New York.

Women are always curious as to whether her long flaxen hair which falls almost to her waist is her own. "I've always kept my hair long," she told me, "because princesses in castles can't have short bobs."

Her idea of a princess in a castle is obviously the role of Lizzie in the musical version of "The Rainmaker." She admits to wanting, campaigning and working on that part harder than any in her career.

It is a coveted role. Originally written with Mary Martin in mind, the author had overtures from Florence Henderson and Barbara Cook, to name a few. The role did everything for Geraldine Page when she did the play.

Miss Swenson visualizes Lizzie as the "warmest, healthiest woman in the world. Completely unneurotic with a desire for only the simple things in life like a husband, family, happy home which she sees passing her by for spinsterhood."

Again comparnig musicals with Shakespeare, she remarked that although Juliet runs the gamut of emotions, she doesn't have to sing besides. "Playing Lizzie is really a decathalon."

SHE SPOKE fondly of Will Geer, who so admirably portrays the father. "This is the second time I've played his daughter in a show and the fifth time we've acted together. "Both performers were several seasons with the Stratford Shakespearean Festival Company in Connecticut.

Serious acting may be a thing of the past for her. Musicals and comedies are more enjoyable, she claims. She made two movies "The Miracle Worker" (as Mrs. Keller) and "Advise and Consent," and doesn't care about working in the medium.

But her career is well launched with another coveted role, that of Irene Adler in "Baker Street" a musical being written about Sherlock Holmes. Her character appears in the Sir Conan Doyle story "Scandal In Bohemia."

It's especially exciting for her because she gets to play "dress up." Afater the plainness of Lizzie imagine what fun it will be to dress up in Lillian Russell vintage costumes and play a grand lady.

Peninsula Panorama

First Grade Is The Real McCoy

George Whitesell

THIS IS THE SEASON when several thousand Peninsula youngsters, approximately in the six-year-old bracket, are undergoing one of the greatest experiences of a lifetime — one which may be some measurement of what kind of people they will be for the rest of their lives.

They are going to school—real school—for the first time and this event looms larger in their minds than does any other world crisis, even Beatles, in the minds of the rest of us.

The kids don't know it, but this is the time when they really become citizens. The small and comforting world of the family is suddenly broadened to relationship with all the world and, we fear, all that is worldly.

This enough to scare anyone, let alone a six-year-old, and anyone who doesn't believe this can quickly convince himself if he can cast his memory back to his own first day in school.

FOR SOME, this may prove difficult. Memory likes to veil over things we would like to forget.

Other people will have very vivid recollections of that first day in school, especially if they are happy recollections.

And, curiously, nearly all of us will clearly remember the name and appearance of our first grade teacher even if we have forgotten all the rest of them.

This is because that teacher was the one secure figure to depend on and cling to in a strange, new world.

MOST PENINSULA youngsters have some degree of sophistication derived from experience in kindergarten and this is helpful.

But the first grade is the real McCoy and marks the turning point, as the poet once wrote, when "life is real and life is earnest."

The little students are about to come to grips with the great mysteries of reading, writing and numbers.

What is also to the point, they are coming to grips with the matter of behavior in the school world and the world outside of school.

AND THE LESSONS of behavior with other people, outside the family, have to be learned before the rest of schooling can become effective.

Modern teachers are very good at this and manage to combine the teaching of social responsibility along with school subjects so that both go hand-in-hand.

Luckily, they can do this because, after the first shock of strangeness has worn off, the minds of first graders are marvelously open to reason.

They have not yet had much chance to to acquire the jealousies, the prejudices, and the fixed notions of their elders. And they are still wide-eyed and alive to new experience, new colors, new pictures, new meanings, new feelings, new joys, and new discoveries.

THEY FIND OUT that it is fun to play together, to sing together, and to just plain yell together in that shrieking period known as recess.

Before them are unwriggling such enigmas as whether 9 is more than 7—which is helpful in knowing whether the Giants won or lost — and how to tell time.

The knotty puzzle of what all the little black marks and squiggly lines in printed books and papers stand for is going to be solved. Soon they will read the funnies in the papers for themselves.

All this is not an easy process and is often accompanied by tears, but in justice to the youngsters it may be said that a considerable portion of the tears are spilled by mothers.

It gets pretty wet around the doorway of a first-grade classroom on the first day of school after mothers have seen the kids safely seated in tiny chairs. They linger in the door for a last look and the tears start flowing.

When fathers escort the very young to their first day of school they do not weep, but it may be better not to talk to them—they've got a big lump in the throat.

Parents who are going through this now can be reassured. There is no record of a school ever losing either a parent or a child. It is better to salute the first-grade teacher—she is the one who has the problems.

The Book Shelf

By SAMUEL CHANDLER
Daly City Librarian

MY REVIEW of President Johnson's book brought a strong suggestion that I review the books by, and about, Senator Barry Goldwater.

Okay, I'll be happy to!

The latest is "Barry Goldwater, Portrait of an Arizonian" by Edwin McDowell. It was written to be the most complete and up-to-date account ever written about the life and political creed of Goldwater.

To prepare it the author searched family papers, old newspapers and conversed with many people who have known the Arizona senator since his childhood.

NEVERTHELESS, it remains a political biography.

Seven of its 12 chapters delineate Goldwater's views on politics, organized labor, domestic issues, the Negro question, foreign relations, liberals versus conservatives and the present campaign.

The author, who works for the largest newspaper in Arizona, has contributed to several rightest publications.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

COULD YOU be ready for a three-day weekend in Hawaii if your husband gave you only 24 hours notice? Probably most of us would like to try if the opportunity presented itself!!

Faced with a similiar situation Mrs. Murray H. Freedman of Westlake not only tried but succeeded in her efforts to secure a baby sitter for sons Jeffrey and Rickey, ready her wardrobe and pack.

Being no stranger to travel was probably an aid to Mrs. Freedman who returned from a three-week vacation on the Russian River to find her husband waiting to ask her to acompany him on the combined business and pleasure jaunt to the islands.

With only three days to spend in one of th world's most romantic spots, the Freedmans didn't waste a minute and their itenerary included dinner dancing at the Royal Hawaiian, dancing at the Hawaiian Village, breakfasting under the famous Banyon tree at the Mouani, a luncheon at the Top O' The Ilikai—the stunningly beautiful room on the thirtieth floor of the new Ilikai Hotel—and another dinner, this time with Westlake friends Mr. and Mrs. Robert Markey, in the new Floating Pagoda restaurant.

The Markeys, next door neighbors of the Freedmans were in the middle of their ten-day holiday when they were surprised to encounter the Fredmans in the lobby of the Waikiki Biltmore.

THE DALY CITY Belle Tones always seem to be cooking up surprises and recently they succeeded in catching Mrs. Alan Boyd unaware with a dinner party and stork shower in the lovely home of Belle Tone Jolyne Liberati.

Co-hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Liberati and Mrs. Betty Elliott, both of whom were beautifully attired in fetching hostess gowns.

Guests were served pink champagne and an Italian dinner, which seemed to be authentic Italian cuisine complete to the smallest details.

Gifts to the mother-to-be were more pink than blue and everyone was outspoken in the wish that Alan Munro Boyd Jr., Susan's little red-headed moppet, will have a sister before Thanksgiving. Munro even received several "consolation" gifts from experienced mothers who know how it feels to see presents piling up for an unseen little brother or sister.

While on the subject of things musical, the Daly City Community Chorus; now four years old, extends another invitation to those within the community who enjoy music and would like to join. According to chorus director, Patti Stolz, some experience is necessary and a simple audition is required.

Membership in the chorus stands at 35 with openings in all voice ranges at the present time.

Chorus activities for the fall will include a repeat performance at the Lutheran Servicemen's Center in San Francisco and an hour-long TV show to be telecast on KPIX the week before Christmas.

ALL THE WOMEN of Holy Angel's parish have been invited to attend a silver tea in the Holy Angels Convent Sunday afternoon from 2 until 4 p.m.

Hostesses for the gathering will be Mrs. Kathleen Moran, Mrs. Doris Seitz, Mrs. Lillian Reardon, Mrs. Suzanne Sheerin, Mrs. Joan Sharpen and Mrs. Betty Nunziate. The Sisters of the Holy Infant will pour for the guests and have agreed to conduct visitors through the convent chapel and other uncloistered sections of the convent complex.

The hostesses are sponsoring the gathering to raise money for the Mother House Building Fund. Leaders of the order of the Sisters of the Holy Infant hope to build a convent and novitiate near Healdsburg.

Anyone wishing more information concerning the tea should contact Mrs. Sharpen, PL 5-9711, or Mrs. Sheerin, PL 6-2062.

HOME, AFTER spending six weks in a charming cabin on the Russian River at Healdsburg, are Mr. and Mrs. Rich Scramaglia and daughters Nora and Rena of St. Francis Heights.

Members of the family enjoyed the resort area while Rich taught summer swimming classes and instructed many friends in the fine art of fishing.

Among those who trekked to Healdsburg to visit the Scramaglias were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Theis and their children, Chris, Renee and Monica, also of St. Francis Heights.

The Theis family also visited relatives in Healdsburg and went sightseeing in Sonora during the summer.

MR. AND MRS. ANGELO SFARZO took advantage of the long Labor Day holiday to take their children to Disneyland.

WESTLAKE'S Mr. and Mrs. Monte Hill rounded out a busy summer with a trip to Canada.

The Hills, who last visited Canada some 14 years ago, took their two children and drove to Vancouver and Victoria for two weeks. The family stopped along the way to tour the Oregon Caves, visit friends in Portland and do some sightseeing in Seattle.

Expressing considerable enthusiasm over five and one half weeks in Europe is Tony Hartin of Daly City.

Hartin was one of 27 persons, all connected with the College of San Mateo, who toured England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France.

Highlighting the trip was the opportunity to hear the Westminster Church Choir and the famous Westminster organ. Hartin, whose passion is music, commented: "I felt I had really arrived, musically, when suddenly the hallelujahs began arising from the depths of the cathedral."

A second high point, musically, occurred when the San Mateo group encountered a group of young American Jews who also were touring Europe. The young men had just completed a year of labor on communal farms in Israel and were preparing to return to their homes in America. Three hours of Jewish folk songs and American hillbilly tunes were agumented by madrigals sung by a French party of tourists when the three groups encountered one another on the Ponto Vecchio Bridge over the Arno River at Florence.

Planning Session for the Friends

MEMBERS OF the Daly City Friends of the Library gather to discuss plans for the group's exhibit at the annual Daly City Garden Club Show, which will be held this weekend at the First National Bank of Daly City. From left are Mrs. Vinton Stratton, Mrs. James Thurston, Mrs. Julian Cohn, Mrs. Bonnie Allgower and Mrs. Ulmont R. Kendree. The exhibit will include a collection of printed material on horticulture. (Post-Times Photo)

MRS. PATRICK SCHOFIELD, president of the Westlake Catholic Women, will preside at the group's first meeting of the 1964-65 year Monday in the parish hall. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Kavanaugh, Mrs. Philip Fraher, Mrs. Francis Roselli and Mrs. Robert Hunter.

Library Unit to Sponsor Exhibit at Garden Show

The Daly City Friends of the Library will sponsor a special exhibit this year at the annual garden show held by the Daly City Garden Club.

The exhibit will feature a collection of published material on horticulture that is available in the Daly City library system.

The show will be held from 1:30 to 8 p.m. Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday at the First National Bank of Daly City at Mission Street and Vista Grande Avenue.

Mrs. Vinton Stratton is chairman of a committee preparing the Friends' exhibit. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ulmont R. Kendree, Mrs. Julian Cohn, Mrs. Lee Brewer and Mrs. Bonnie Allgower.

Mrs. James Thurston of the Daly City Library staff is coordinating the efforts of the Friends and library personnel in providing material for the exhibit.

The exhibit will help visitors gain the technical know-how of good garden techniques through the written word rather than the trial and error method, according to Mrs. Stratton.

S.F. Workshop Will Sponsor 'Amen Corner'

The Actor's Workshop will bring James Baldwin's first play, "The Amen Corner," to San Francisco for a limited three-week run, September 23 through October 10.

The Frank Silvera production, direct from a six-month run in Los Angeles, will be presented as a special event before the opening of the Workshop's regular season October 16.

"The Amen Corner" is a product of Silvera's new "Theatre of Being" in Los Angeles.

On its premiere there, it was hailed as "extraordinarily fine . . . eminently successful" by the Christian Science Monitor and praised in other media.

It has since been tranferred to the larger Coronet Theatre in Los Angeles.

The Workshop will sponsor the Silvera production intact and will host the "Theatre of Being" company at Marines' Theatre in San Francisco.

Ursuline Unit Plans Session

The Ursuline Guild will conduct its first meeting of the 1964-65 school year at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the gymnasium of Ursuline High School at 4056 Mission Street.

Msgr. James Murray and Principal Mother Julie will speak.

The guild's board of directors will meet at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the school gymnasium.

Guild to Meet

The Pacifica Artists' Guild will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the American Legion Hall in Rockaway Beach.

Muralist Helen Conser will be the guest speaker.

SPICE BISCUITS

Baking cheese biscuits! A suspicion of dry mustard will perk them up.

Use Pastry Bag

To fill cream puffs the professional way, don't slice off tops! Make a hole in the bottom of each, using a small sharp knife; fill a pastry bag with thick chocolate-flavored whipped cream or custard and pipe the filling into the cream puffs through the bottom holes.

District 26 of Auxiliary Plans Monthly Meeting

American Legion Auxiliary, District 26, wil lhold its monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in the Redwood City Legion Hall.

State Auxiliary President Mrs. Venice Collins will assist a workshop that has been planned.

These state chairmen will be present to give instructions: Mrs. Lydia Briggs, Americanism; Mrs. Joyce Toombs, education and scholarship; Mrs. Gertrude Murphy, community service, and Mrs. Peggy White, junior activities.

The state first vice president, Mrs. Doyne Keyser, will speak on membership.

The district president, Mrs. William Most, will present the Veteran's Hospital in Palo Alto with six hand crocheted Afghans that she has recently made.

WARM KITCHEN?

If your kitchen is warm, put that half-used bottle of maple or maple-flavored syrup in the refrigerator.

FAMILY LIFE

OF NORTH COUNTY

DALY CITY — PACIFICA — COLMA — SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Betrothal Announced At Dinner

A recent family dinner was the occasion for Mr. and Mrs. August J. Barberis to announce the engagement of their daughter, Crrol Ann, to Paul Caverno, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Canavero. Both the prospective bride and and bridegroom are South San Francisco residents.

Carol is the granddaughter of Giocomo Barberis of South San Francisco and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bellaris of Crockett. She has one brother, Neil Barberis.

The bride attended Mercy High School in Burlingame and was graduated in June from San Jose State College. She is a teacher in the South San Francisco Elementary School district.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Meet Mr. A.B.C. - He Works for our Advertisers

He is one of the experienced circulation auditors on the staff of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.* Just as a bank examiner makes a periodic check of the records of your bank—so does Mr. A.B.C. visit our office at regular intervals to make an exacting inspection and audit of our circulation records. The circulation facts thus obtained are condensed in easy-to-read audit reports which tell our advertisers: How much circulation we have; where it goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that tell advertisers what they get for their money when they advertise in this newspaper.

Advertisers are invited to ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

*The Audit Bureau of Circulations, of which this newspaper is a member, is a cooperative, nonprofit association of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing: A definition for paid circulation; rules and standards for auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

HE'LL PREACH SUNDAY

Lakeside Names Dr. Roe Johnson

REV. ROE H. JOHNSON
New Pastor

Dr. Roe H. Johnson will deliver his first sermon as pastor of Lakeside Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services. Topic of his sermon will be: "Now Let It Work."

Dr. Johnson, previously the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Indianapolis, was called to Lakeside after the congregation voted unanimously to invite him to fill the pulpit formerly held by the late Dr. Clark Neale Edwards.

Dr. Johnson first met the members of the Lakeside congregation in August at a specially held service.

The new pastor's schedule brought him to California in time to attend the meeting of the Presbytery of San Francisco in Walnut Creek last week.

He will be formally installed in his new pulpit on the afternoon of October 4. The moderator of the Presbytery and other church dignitaries will be present.

The naming of Dr. Johnston was the result of some five and a half months of work by the Pastor Nominating Committee, which was elected by the congregation in January of this year. Ninety names were considered by the committee.

Dr. Johnston had been pastor of the Indianapolis church since 1954. Prior to that time, he was the pastor of the Evergreen Village Church in Detroit.

His high school days were spent in Davenport, Ia., and he attended St. Ambrose College.

He graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1944 and served as an officer in the Navy from 1944 to 1946.

He then became an electrical engineer with the Pacific Electric Motor Company in Oakland from 1946 to 1947.

He graduated from McCormick Theological Seminary in 1950 and in 1955 received and honorary doctor of divinity degree from Hanover College.

The Reverend Johnson is married and the couple have four children, Virginia, 15, Roe, 13, Kenneth, 10 and Jane 7.

His wife is the former Helen Nickless whose father at one time was the pastor of Old First Presbyterian Church in San Francisco.

Dr. R. Paul Schearrer, who has been interim pastor of the church, delivered his final sermon at Lakeside last Sunday and was later honored together with his wife, at a reception in the social hall of the church.

Cellist Will Play Bruch At Temple

William I. Jackson, musical director of the New Symphony of New York and of the Nashua Symphony Orchestra, will perform on the cello at Temple Judea Tuesday evening as part of the temple's High Holy Day observances.

He will offer Bruch's "Kol Nidre."

At Rosh Hashonah services Sunday evening at the temple, Efrat Lavry played the harp. She is the daughter of the noted composer and conductor, Marc Lavry.

She had appeared at the temple in accompaniment to the reading of the Psalms July 24.

In other Temple Judea news, the Men's Club will sponsor a dinner at the temple Saturday, October 10. It will feature musical entertainment and a fashion show presented by residents of the Hebrew Home.

Dinner will be served at 6:45 p.m. Reservations may be made by contacting Henry Metz at JU 7-8149 or Zel Baer at JU 7-8910.

Sunday School To Hold Picnic

The Sunday School of Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church in South San Francisco will hold a picnic for children and their parents in Orange Park in South San Francisco.

The picnic will be held after the 11 a.m. worship service at the church. Beverages will be furnished by a picnic committee, which includes Mr. and Mrs. Russell Goetsch, Mrs. Bernard Tarkon and Mrs. Victor Hiatt.

TIRE SLASHED

Walter Kahl of 2 Coronado Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had slashed a tire on his auto.

Bethlehem To Conduct 2 Services

The council of Bethlehem Lutheran Church has voted to start two Sunday morning services when the church opens its new sanctuary in Fairmont October 4, according to Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor.

The services will be at 9 and 11 a.m.

Purpose of this decision is to make it possible for more people to attend church and to involve more adults in bible study, according to Reverend Johnson.

The first service will run from 9 to 10:30 a.m. and will inclue 45 minutes of worship and 45 minutes of Sunday School classes for all ages. The second service will be from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, and will be a full length worship service with nursery and pre-school Sunday School classes provided.

The men of the congregation plan to work Saturdays during September to ready the new sanctuary for its opening. They will paint inside and lay tile on the floors.

The new building is located at 533 Hickey Boulevard. The congregation is worshipping in the Pacific Heights School in San Bruno.

Men's Club Sets Dance, Bay Cruise

The Westlake Catholic Men's Club will sponsor a San Francisco Bay cruise and dinner-dance aboard the vessel, Harbor Prince, on the evening of Friday, October 9.

The Harbor Prince will leave its pier at Fisherman's Wharf at 9 p.m. The evening will include a buffet dinner and dancing to the music of Al Borelli's orchestra.

Tickets at $10 per couple went on sale last night at the club's first meeting of the new season. Dick Hoedt is the chairman of the program.

The cruise and dinner-dance event two years ago, which drew a capacity turnout.

Observances To Continue

Congregation B'nai Israel will continue the observance of its High Holy Days with Kol Nidre services at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday in the War Memorial Commu-Street in Daly City.

Rabbi Solomon Shore will officiate. He will be assisted by Cantor Morris Lichtman and by Cantor Jacob Strauss, the reader of the Torah.

Morning services for Yom Kippur will be held at 9 a.m. next Wednesday in the War Memorial. The sermon and Yiskor 11 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. and the N'hila service will be conducted at 5:30 p.m.

The congregation's first Friday evening service of the fall season will be held at 8:30 p.m. at 1575 Annie Street, Colma. Rabbi Shore will speak on: "The Ten Days of Forgiveness."

The Oath of Office

New Judges Are Sworn In

W. Howard Hartley and Melvin E. Cohn became San Mateo County's eighth and ninth Superior Court judges in impressive ceremonies last week.

Scores of judges, attorneys and well-wishers overflowed the courtroom of Judge Edmund Scott and out into the hallway in the Hall of Justice at Redwood City to watch the two new judges take the oath of office.

Both Judge Hartley and Judge Cohn were elevated to th Superior Court from the Municipal Court last month by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Th appointments were effective last Tuesday, although each of the men had served several months on the Superior bench earlier this year by special assignment of the Judicial Council.

Presiding Judge Louis B. Dematteis was master of ceremonies for the hour-long ceremony.

He was flanked by Appellate Court Justice Murray Draper, himself a former Superior Court judge in this county and now a candidate for appointment to the State Supreme Court, and by Judge Scott, senior member of the Superior Court in San Mateo County.

It was Judge Scott who administered the oath of office to the new Superior judges.

Judge Hartley, 47, who resides at 1048 Black Mountain Road, Hillsborough, was a chief deputy district attorney before being appointed to the Central District Municipal Court in 1959.

He has a record of 22 years in public service, starting as a special agent with the FBI following graduation from Fordham University School of Law in 1941.

Judge Hartley and his wife Anita, have three children, Billy 15, Bobbie, 13, and Linda Janine, 9.

Judge Cohn, also 47, was appointed to the Southern District Municipal Court 10 months ago.

A graduate of the University of California, he was in private practice in San Carlos and served for several years as city attorney for that community.

He and his wife, Nita, reside at 731 Knoll Drive, San Carlos, with thir three children, Larry 16; Cathy, 14, and Janet, 10.

Judge Hartley has been assigned to Department Eight of the Superior Court, and Judge Cohn to Department Nine.

That's a load off our front.

Now you know why the Volkswagen Station Wagon has that sawed-off look.

There is no front in front because we put our engine in back.

The advantages are obvious:

The Volkswagen is 4 feet shorter than standard wagons, but only 9 inches longer than the Volkswagen Sedan.

It parks like a little sports car.

Yet inside, you can carry more stuff than any wagon made: 1632 lbs.

Then there are a couple of advantages that aren't so obvious.

The Volkswagen is nearly a ton lighter on its tires than standard wagons. So 35,000 miles to a set is not unusual.

And you'll never need water. Or anti-freeze. The engine's air-cooled. No radiator.

You get the kind of mileage people hope for in compact cars, to say nothing of big wagons. (24 miles to the gallon is average.)

And you're still pushing a hood in front? When all that could be behind you?

Scallops Always Are in Season

Sea scallops, considered by many as one of the tastiest foods from the deep, are plentiful and economical, and they are never out of season. The ocean variety of scallops is harvested and marketed the year around.

Scallops are active swimmers, moving freely through the waters of the sea. The active opening and closing of its shell, controlled by the adductor muscle, provides a form of water-jet locomotion for the scallop. The sweet, firm-fleshed adductor muscle, often called the "eye," is the part of the scallop which Americans so thoroughly enjoy. Europeans, on the other hand, consume the entire scallop meat in much the same manner as Americans consume oysters and clams.

The sea scallop is harvested from the deep waters off the North and Middle Atlantic States. The majority of the catch of this delicious shellfish is landed at the old whaling port of New Bedford, Mass., which is known to many as "The Scallop Center of the World." The sea scallop shell is saucer-shaped and sometimes grows to a diameter of eight inches.

Shoppers find that scallops as marketed are one of the best buys because they are 100% edible — no waste. Scallops are available in a variety of market forms including fresh, fresh frozen, frozen breaded, frozen French fried, and in packaged frozen dinners. Scallop meats are lean, light, and firm, and contain the easily digested animal protein so necessary for body growth and repair. The scallop is also an excellent source of calcium, phosphorus, iron, copper, and iodine. It is characterized by an extremely low fat content.

The most familiar scallop main dishes are deep-fried or pan-fried. Scallops are also served in cocktails, appetizers, soups, casseroles, and salads with equally satisfying results. Delicious, never out of season, sea scallops provide delectable eating.

Home economists of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries recommend the following recipes which are both appetizing and economical. Additional recipes contained in the United States Department of the Interior's recipe publication How to Cook Scallops may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. Price 25 cents.

SCALLOP THERMIDOR

1 pound scallops, fresh or frozen
1 quart boiling water
2 tablespoons salt
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon powdered mustard
Dash cayenne pepper
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

Thaw frozen scallops. Rinse with cold water to remove any shell particles. Place in boiling salted water. Cover and bring to the boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer for 3 to 4 minutes, depending on size. Drain. Cut large scallops in half. Fry mushrooms in butter for 5 minutes. Blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add scallops and parsley. Place in 6 well-greased, individual shells or 5-ounce custard cups. Sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees F., for 10 to 15 minutes or until cheese browns. Serves 6.

SCALLOPS AMANDINE

2 pounds scallops, fresh or frozen.
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
½ cup flour
½ cup blanched slivered almonds
½ cup butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Toast points

Thaw frozen scallops. Rinse with cold water to remove any shell particles. Cut large scallops in half. Sprinkle scallops with salt and pepper. Roll in four. Fry almonds in butter until lightly browned. Remove almonds. Add scallops and continue frying. When scallops are brown on one side, turn carefully and brown the other side. Cooking time approximately 4 to 6 minutes. Add parsley and almonds. Serve on toast points. Serves 6.

Pink Buttermilk Cool Smoothie

Piquant tasting buttermilk drinks are favored by many for serving as an appetizer or with a salad or sandwich luncheon. Here is a real cooler-downer for a hot day. Recipe makes 6 to 8 servings. In a chilled bowl or large size shaker combine 2 cups cold buttermilk with 2 cups chilled tomato-vegetable juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon salt and a dash of hot pepper sauce. Pour into tall chilled glasses.

Tokay Ham And Turkey Salad Idea

Use up that leftover ham and turkey by putting together "Tokay Ham and Turkey Salad." This main-dish salad with its zingy mayonnaise dressing and tangy Tokay grape halves would be ideal for a buffet luncheon or Sunday supper. Besides being such a choice ingredient in various salads, meat and fish sauces and desserts, Flame Tokays are perfect for slipping into lunch boxes.

Tokay Ham and Turkey Salad

2 cups Tokay grapes
1 cup diced cooked turkey or chicken
1 cup julienne cooked ham
½ cup mayonnaise
1 cup sliced celery (and a few minced leaves)
¼ teaspoon curshed tarragon
¼ cup pickle relish
¼ cup chopped green pepper
½ teaspoon salt
Iceberg lettuce

Halve and seed Tokays; combine in bowl with turkey and ham. Mix all remaining ingredients except lettuce. Add to Tokay mixture; toss lightly. Chill. Serve on lettuce. Makes five or six servings.

A mixture of salt and turpentine applied to white enamel wash bowls and bath tubs will help restore just-like-new whiteness.

Highfalutin' Lamb Dish Is Notable

With its sauce of condensed tomato soup, dairy sour cream and large pieces of ripe olives, "Highfalutin Lamb Shanks" lives up to its name in delicious fashion. Heating ripe olives in main dishes and with vegetables notably accents their nut-like flavor.

Highfalutin Lamb Shanks

4 lamb shanks
Flour
¼ cup shortening
Salt
Pepper
½ cup finely chopped onion
1-3 cup water
1 cup ripe olives
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed tomato soup

Dust lamb shanks with flour. Brown in heated shortening in heavy skillet. Add salt and pepper to taste, onion and water. Cover tightly; cook over low heat 1½ hours, adding a little water if needed. Cut olives into large pieces; combine with sour cream and soup. Skim any fat from meat drippings; add olive mixture. Continue cooking in covered skillet until lamb is tender (20 to 30 minutes, depending on size of shanks). Makes 4 servings.

Here's a Menu for Hungry Sailors That Features Boater's Beef Buns

Comes the weekend, some people take to the waterways the way others do the highways. And a picnic-style meal served aboard the family boat doesn't differ too much from the one served from the tailgate of a stationwagon. According to the home economists of the R. T. French Company, it just requires a little more forethought and planning, since there is less room to spread out.

Paper plates, cups, insulated bags, a cooler, and bucket all help to make a meal that is shipshape. If you are going to spend the day cruising, the wise mate does most of her work while still ashore. These recipes from test kitchens were specifically designed with this strategy in mind.

The Boater's Beef Buns are a special treat for sailors. They can be made the day before. Marinating the steak pieces in a delicious spaghetti sauce gives the meat a wonderful, spicy flavor. And when the spaghetti sauce is made from a mix, it couldn't be easier to prepare. Served on a bun, the built-in sauce eliminates the need for taking along a catchup bottle. These are delicious cold, but if you have a galley aboard ship, you may want to re-heat them in a saucepan.

The salad is ideal for a boat trip. This, too, can be fixed a day ahead. Pack the lettuce greens and celery separately to keep them cool and crisp.

The cake travels in the pan in which it is baked, making it a good traveler. Use baking pans with slide-on fitted lids if you have them. Spices and lemon peel blend to give this cake a mouth-watering flavor. It's a big cake for generous servings to feed the hungry crew.

Here are the recipes from test kitchens.

BOATER'S BEEF BUNS

4 cubed steaks (about 1½ pounds)
2 tablespoons shortening
1 envelope spaghetti sauce mix
1 can (6-oz.) tomato paste
2 cups cold water
1 teaspoon sugar
salt and black pepper to taste
8 hamburger buns, split and buttered

Cut steak pieces in half to make 2 squares of meat. In a large skillet, lightly brown meat in hot shortening. Remove from heat. Sprinkle meat with spaghetti sauce mix. Add tomato paste, water, and sugar. Stir to blend sauce mixture. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and cook gently 25 to 30 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cool meat in sauce; refrigerate over night. Next day re-heat steaks in sauce in a sauce pan (heating all or a few at a time as sandwiches are made). Serve a square of meat and sauce on each buttered bun. Makes 8 servings.

SHORE LINE BEAN SALAD

1 can (1 lb.) kidney beans
1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans
1 can (1 lb.) cut wax beans
3 medium-size onions
3 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons water
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoons paprika
¼ teaspoon herb seasoning
½ cup sugar
¾ cup vinegar
½ cup salad oil
1 large head lettuce
1½ cups diced celery

Drain cans of beans; empty into a bowl. Slice peeled onions; separate into rings and add to beans. Make a marinade by combining the mustard, water, salt, paprika, herb seasoning, sugar, vinegar and salad oil. Mix well. Pour over beans and onions. Let marinate over-night. Cut or tear head of lettuce into bite-size pieces. Store in a plastic bag in the refrigerator until ready to use. At serving time drain off part of the marinade. Add the crisp lettuce and celery. Toss lightly. Add as much of marinade as needed to dress the salad. Makes 8 servings.

STARBOARD PRUNE CAKE

2¼ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
1¼ teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon allspice
¾ cup vegetable shortening
1¾ cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1½ teaspoons lemon peel
3 eggs
1 cup buttermilk
1½ cups finely chopped, cooked prunes
1 cup finely chopped walnuts

Sift together the flour, salt, soda, cinnamon, nutmeg, and allspice. Set aside. Cream together the shortening, sugar, vanilla, and lemon peel. Add the eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add the flour and buttermilk alternately in 3 or 4 portions. Blend together at low speed on the electric mixer. Drain prunes well before chopping. Fold in the chopped prunes and nuts. Turn batter into a 13 x 9 x 2¼-inch baking pan which has been lightly oiled and dusted with flour. Bake in a 350 degree oven 50 to 55 minutes. Let stand on cooling rack 10 minutes. Turn out; cool and frost. Or, if you wish — cook cake in pan; frost top with Star Lemon Frosting.

STAR LEMON FROSTING

¼ cup soft butter
2 tablespoons water
4 teaspoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon lemon peel
⅛ teaspoon salt
3 cups confectioners' sugar

Combine the butter, water, lemon juice, lemon peel, salt, and sugar in the small bowl of electric mixer. Beat at low speed until completely blended and smooth. Enough frosting for top of 13 x 9-inch cake.

Try Corned Beef With Vegetables

Use any leftover corned beef for hash or a sandwich spread.

Corned Beef and Vegetables
French Bread
Indian Pudding

CORNED BEEF AND VEGETABLES

4 pounds (about) boneless corned beef brisket
3 quarts cold water
1 tablespoon mixed pickling spices
1 large clove garlic, peeled
8 small potatoes, pared
4 medium carrots, pared
4 serving-size wedges green cabbage

Place corned beef in a kettle with the water — there should be enough to cover; add pickling spices and garlic. Bring to a boil; simmer until tender—3 to 4 hours. About 30 minutes before beef is cooked through, add the potatoes and carrots; add cabbage for last 15 minutes of cooking. Drain beef and vegetables; serve hot. Makes four servings of meat and vegetables with some extra servings of the corned beef.

Rice Piquant To Delight Your Guests

Rice prepared this way should delight your guests.

Baked Ham Rice Piquant
Green Beans Rolls
Fruit Sherbet French Wafers

RICE PIQUANT

1 cup converted-type rice
½ cup light raisins
¼ cup pale dry sherry
¼ cup butter
½ cup pine nuts

Cook the rice according to package directions so it is tender and dry; keep hot. Wash raisins in hot water and drain; simmer them with the sherry, in a 6-inch skillet, until sherry is absorbed; add to rice. In the small skillet, heat the pine nuts in the butter; toss with hot rice and raisins. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

MAYFAIR'S PLEDGE TO YOU...

WE'LL FIGHT TO KEEP OUR MEAT PRICES DOWN!!!

BUT WE'LL NEVER SACRIFICE THE QUALITY OF MAYFAIR'S BLUE RIBBON STEER BEEF!

Here are the headlines we've all been reading:

NFO Calls for Holding Action By Farmers in 23 States to Keep Livestock Off Market

CORNING, Ia. — The second major holding action by beef livestock prods, was under way at the week-end. The call to farmers in 23 States to keep cattle, [illegible] from the [illegible]

Consumer Meat Prices on Rise

By KENNETH HUTTIG
DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — East say they are feeling the effect and have raised prices. Choice cuts of beef were [illegible] five cents a pound [illegible]

Wholesale Food Index Reaches 3½-Year High

New York — Sharply higher meat prices yesterday boosted the wholesale food price [illegible] to its highest level in [illegible] It said that jumps in the prices of beef, hams, pork bellies, steers and hogs, among other items, raised the index to $8.17, compared to the previous 1964 high of [illegible]

Yes . . . we've all read the news stories about how certain groups are trying to drive meat-prices higher by keeping livestock off the market. Well, Ma'am . . . they might succeed, for a while. If they do, retailers will have to pay more for meat. And if we have to pay more, so will our customers. And we don't like that any more than you do! But we promise you this: WE'RE GOING TO FIGHT AS HARD AS WE KNOW HOW TO KEEP OUR MEAT PRICES DOWN! Our savings will be your savings. But we'll never settle for less than the best, even if it means a few pennies saved. We'll continue to have the most "specials," the biggest variety, the LOWEST everyday prices!

Fire Aftermath

Car Owner's Sigh of Relief Is Premature

Owen O'Neil of San Francisco breathed a sign of relief. There was his immaculate 1963 Corvette, seemingly untouched, parked near Franklin D. Roosevelt School in Daly City.

It had been stolen, he reported to police at 1:30 a.m., Thursday, while he was visiting his brother, James A. O'Neil, at 826 Skyline Drive.

The owner and his brother drove to the school in the brother's auto after reporting the theft. They spotted the car.

O'Neil got into his auto, stepped on the starter and whoooom! The engine burst into flames.

Before Daly City firefighters were able to quell the fire, the front end of the car was ruined. (see photo above)

O'Neil discovered later that the auto thieves had removed the carburetor and were preparing to strip other parts before being discovered by Pacifica police. The school area is adjacent to Pacifica.

Daly City Patrolman Harry Lax said that Pacifica police picked up one of the thieves, a 17-year-old Daly City youth and that a 17-year-old companion, also of Daly City, was arrested later at his home.

The youths were charged with auto theft and released in the custody of their parents.

Society Elects New Officers

Mrs. Ray Spangler, of Redwood City, was elected president of the San Mateo County Historical Society board of directors at a meeting last week, succeeding J. Hart Clinton.

Other officers elected or re-elected were: Mrs. David D. Bohanan, vice president; Francis Guido, recording secretary; Ronald Sick, teasurer, and Dr. Frank Stanger, executive secretary.

A resolution expressing appreciation to Clinton for his many years of service to the society and for his help in seeing the society's museum make its move to its new location on the College of San Mateo campus was passed unanimously.

Demos to Meet

The Colma Democratic Club will conduct its first meeting of the 1964-65 year at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in Garden Village School.

ANTENNA TAKEN

Bruce Brewster of 27 Northridge Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had broken a two-way radio antenna on his auto.

TICKETS STOLEN

Rodney C. Losberger of 205 Palmcrest Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had stolen three San Francisco 49er season tickets and a half dollar from his home.

A HEALTHY PICTURE

Sales in County Spiral

Retail sales in San Mateo County last year were nearly double the total recorded only eight years previously in 1955, according to a report released last week by the San Mateo County Development Association.

In 1963, the sales totaled $723,463,000 while the figure in 1955 was $369,967,000.

The report painted a healthy picture of the county's economic life and noted that population also is soaring. It made these observations.

CONCOMMITANT with the jump in retail sales is the hike in income and net buying power of San Mateo County residents.

Again, the figure has almost doubled from the 1955 total of $830,086,000. The figure for 1963 was $1,566,464,000.

The most spectacular increase since 1955 is in total payrolls in the county. From $97,600,000 in that year, the figure had jumped to an estimated $680,000,000 in 1963. This is 700 per cent of the 1955 figure.

One of the bases of this almost fantastic growth rate, of course, is the rise in population. The county's population has risen by almost 200,000 persons since 1955 to an estimated 530,000 on July 1 of this year.

Along with the increased working force in the county has been an increase in the number of new plants and expansions of old installations in the area.

In the five years between 1959 and 1963, 1,176 new plants and expansions were effected, at a capital expenditure of $201,471,000.

Two hundred twenty-five new plants and expansions were built last year in the county, at a capital expense of over $36.5 million.

Building permits issued in the county in 1963 totalled $110,000,000 for residences, $5,542,476 for industrial installations, $8,243,014 for offices and $5,363,870 for stores.

The total dollar investment in the county last year was $36,504,000. This is about three times the total dollar investment in 1955.

The top year for dollar investment was 1959, when the figure reached $48,402,000.

On a population breakdown, the figures show San Mateo has the largest population in the county—77,500 at the beginning of this year. Daly City was second at 58,400 and Redwood City was third, at 53,200.

Top retail sales in the county last year were also in San Mateo, reaching $162,560,000. Second was Redwood City, at $125,298,000.

Foodstuffs represented the largest chunk of retail sales in the county last year. A total of $204,231,000 was spent on food in the county. Automotive sales reached $136,067,000 last year.

Manufacturing enterprises represented the largest employment and payroll figures in the report.

Almost 30,000 persons were employed in manufacturing in the county according to the 1962 figures, with a payroll of $205,718,060.

Second was wholesale and retail trade, with a payroll of $140,911,410 for 26,718 employes. Third was transportation, communications and utilities, with 16,012 employes and a payroll of $124,966,477.

PETER LOMMORI

Doelger Aide Is Appointed

Peter J. Lommori, longtime real estate representative in the Westlake area, has joined Henry Doelger Builder, Incorporated, and will represent Doelger's Fairmont subdivision in Pacifica.

His appointment was announced by Edward King, vice president and general manager of the Doelger firm.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco, Lommori has been associated with Gene Harrington and the Danco Company for the past six years.

He is a resident of Fairmont.

Business at Airport Sets July Record

Air passengers and cargo traffic at San Francisco International Airport in July got the new fiscal year (1964-65) off to a flying start, Belford Brown, Airport General Manager, has announced.

In a report submitted to James K. Carr, general manager of the city's Public Utilities Commission, Brown said that air freight for July totaled 23,687,189 pounds, up 73.7 per cent from July last year, while the passenger total of 739,504 represented a 17.3 per cent gain and was second only to June as an all-time monthly record. Nationally, the air passenger gain, as reflected in airline reports of revenue passenger miles flown, was 14.7 per cent.

U. S. mail volume gained 10.9 per cent to 6,277,610 pounds, and the air express volume was 1,157,068 pounds, a 22.7 per cent increase.

Aircraft movements—landings and take-offs—for the month totaled 22,328 of which those by scheduled carrier numbered 16,361, up 4.3 per cent. The remainder included 907 by military aircraft and 5,060 by nonscheduled carrier and itinerant or locally-based private and corporate planes.

Brown attributed the abnormal July gain in air cargo (the fiscal year increase was 26.3 per cent and for the first six months of 1964, 32.9 per cent) partly to increased capacity resulting from the operation of jet cargoliners, and partly to increased shipments of berries, fruit and other perishables. He also noted there has been an increase in air frieght which can be linked to miltiary activities in Pacific areas by the U. S. Armed Forces.

BETTER BUSINESS

Buying Cemetery Lot Needs Study

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

THE TRADITIONAL monument cemetery and memorial park are the two general types of cemeteries to be found in the United States.

There is no over-all restricton of monuments or memorials in the traditional monument cemetery although some such cemeteries do have size restrictions and sections providing for certain types of memorials.

Ordinarily a bronze grave marker set flush with the ground is used in the memorial park cemetery. Many modern cemeteries contain sections designed for both monument and marker lots.

In addition, garden plots, crypts and mausoleums, cremations and inurnment are available at various cemeteries and memorial parks.

The purchase of a cemetery lot should call for a careful investigation before the investment of what many times may be the person's entire life savings.

A family, and particularly one with elderly members, planning to live permanently in a certain community, will usually effect a savings and have a better choice by buying in advance of need.

Also, the fact should be considered that resale may be a problem if it is found necessary to dispose of the cemetery lots.

Some cemeteries prohibit any resale of lots unless there is specific permission given by the cemetery organization.

A NEW CEMETERY is as speculative as any other type of a business venture. The Better Business Bureau has found cemetery or funeral "bargains" of any undeveloped cemetery on many occasions to be costly speculations.

There are no infallible rules for determining whether a particular promotion will be successful when undeveloped real estate or services are contracted for use in the future.

The fact that local men of high integrity are on a cemetery association board does not guarantee the soundness of a promotion as long as the actual control remains in the hands of the promoter or sales organization.

The sales organization could indefinitely out-vote any number of individual lot owners by annexing and plotting additional land in lots to which they would hold title.

Under such a setup, the promoters would enjoy a monopoly and could set their own prices and profits.

ONE OF the most flagrant abuses connected with funeral practices is to charge the bereaved family for "extras" that they thought were included in the quoted price of the funeral.

A new New York state law requires funeral directors and undertaking establishments to furnish written itemized statements at the time funeral arrangements are made showing the cost of individual services and merchandise to be furnished.

This statute eliminates the "unit pricing" practices of some undertakers who in the past have sold packaged funerals that were billed as a "casket and complete funeral service."

State laws should be checked regarding the sale of pre-arranged funeral contracts.

Fourteen states, including California, have passed special laws governing cemetery management to protect the public and well-operated cemeteries from the questionable practices of unscrupulous promoters.

Most of the statues require that all monies or a major share of all monies, paid in advance for funeral merchandise or services, must be deposited in trust with an approved financial institution until the need for disbursement arises.

In most of these states, monies paid for in advance for burial vaults must also be entrusted. In some states, amounts paid for markers and mausoleum space sold in advance of death must also be placed in trust.

A PERSON 35 years of age, with the present life expectancy of 70 years, should carefully examine any contract to insure the delivery of merchandise and services in the future.

Under some contracts, the interest on the money invested goes for the seller.

The fact should be seriously considered that $300 invested in United States bonds will earn $100 interest in 10 years. Interest your money should earn may be lost during the years that intervene before the expenditure is required.

A contract should be carefully checked for an "escalator clause" that allows additional payments to be legally charged if the cost of the merchandise and services to the seller increases.

Under such circumstances, families who are already burdened with brief, find themselves required to pay additional sums for merchandise and services thought paid in full.

Roman Catholics should consult their pastor to determine whether Catholic authorities have any objections to burials in a particular cemetery.

Salesmen have been known to make false claims that burials will be authorized for Catholics in their cemeteries.

Model Units To Be Shown By San Marin

A new planned community under construction in Novato, called San Marin, Sunday will unveil four model hillside homes looking out over a rolling landscape, according to Clayton Randle, sales manager for San Marin.

Floor plans include a tri-level design, a two-story arrangement, and two different one-level layouts.

Each offers a choice of exterior designs and prices, ranging from $32,000 to $35,000.

The new models have all been designed to take advantage of the surrounding scenery, according to Randle.

Wehn completed, San Marin will include 6225 single and multi-family dwellings, schools, churches, a shopping and professional center, a recreation complex, golf course and parks.

San Marin may be reached by Highway 101. Visitors should turn left in Novato onto San Marin Drive.

GARMENTS STOLEN

Crown Round Dogs With Kraut

Best candidate for turning a plain picnic-on-the-porch into a real party is the delicious Kraut Round Dog—easy for you to prepare, popular beyond your wildest expectations. Slit the juicy frank so that it curls into a circle when cooked, perfect to set atop a hamburger bun; fill the center with a heaping portion of creamy kraut-and-chive mixture... and there you have the cleverest, tastiest sandwich yet invented! Kraut sparks up any summertime fare... its tangy flavor is so refreshing, it's convenient to store or tote, and it's one of the most nutritious, economical vegetables we have available. Bring on iced tea spiked with fresh mint, if you wish, and a feather-light frosted cake with the appealing kraut-crowned round dogs... a picnic winner every time.

CREAMY KRAUT ROUND DOGS
(Makes 6 servings)

⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
4 teaspoons all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chopped chives
2 cups sauerkraut, drained
6 frankfurters
6 hamburger buns, split and toasted

Combine evaporated milk, flour, salt and pepper; blend. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in chives and kraut; mix well. Heat to serving temperature, stirring frequently.

Cut 10 deep slits across each frankfurter without cutting all the way through. Cook in boiling salted water 10 minutes. Drain. Arrange kraut mixture and frankfurters on bun bottoms. Top with bun tops.

Sauce Doubles Loaf Enjoyment

To double the enjoyment of hamburger patties or meat loaf, pour a zesty meat sauce, subtly flavored with wine, over the cooked meat. This sauce is quick to make and adds extra character to ground beef dishes.

Spicy pickles and sliced tomatoes would be pleasing go-alongs for garnish and texture. An especially tantalizing pickle, rather like Bread and Butter pickles, can be made from zucchini squash. The thinly sliced zucchini is marinated in well-seasoned wine vinegar before sealing in sterile jars. The delicate wine flavor in the vinegar and the traditional spices create a condiment noteworthy enough to accompany the finest roast or steak.

To lend a gala atmosphere to the meal, no matter whether the main dish is sirloin or meat balls, pour glasses of Burgundy or one of the "vino rosso" type wines—all produced in California. Traditionally, red dinner wines are served at cool room temperature to capture the full bouquet and aroma of the wine.

ZESTY MEAT SAUCE
(Makes about 1½ cups sauce)

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup bouillon cube broth
1 teaspoon instant minced onion or 4 teaspoons finely chopped raw onion
¼ cup California Burgundy or other red dinner wine
¼ cup catsup
¼ teaspoon celery seed
Salt
Dash pepper

Melt butter and blend in flour. Stir in broth, add onion, and cook and stir until mixture boils and is thickened. Blend in wine, castup, celery seed and salt and pepper to taste. Heat slowly a minute or two longer. Serve with hamburger patties, meat loaf, etc.

ZUCCHINI PICKLES
(Makes about 6 pints)

4 pounds (4 quts.) sliced zucchini
1 pound (3½ cups) sliced small onions
½ cup salt
1 quart California wine vinegar
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons celery seed
2 teaspoons tumeric
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2½ teaspoons mustard seed

Cut unpeeled zucchini into very thin slices. Peel onions and slice thinly. Cover with water and add salt. Let stand 1 hour, drain. Combine vinegar, sugar, celery seed, tumeric, dry mustard, and mustard seed. Bring to a boil and pour over vegetables. Let stand 1 hour. Bring to a boil and cook 3 minutes. Place in jars and seal at once.

Barbecued Chicken for Patio Parties

Here's a barbecued chicken recipe that is a more than adequate excuse for a patio party.

RANCHO BARBECUE CHICKEN

3 large broiling chickens, cut in quarters
½ cup of chili sauce or catsup
¼ cup of unflavored red wine vinegar
½ cup of water
2 teaspoons of sugar
1 tablespoon of prepared mustard
½ teaspoon of Java cracked black pepper
1½ teaspoons of garlic salt
1½ teaspoons of chili con carne seasoning
1 teaspoon of Old Hickory Smoked Salt
¼ cup of melted butter
1 tablespoon of instant toasted onions

Arrange chicken pieces in large glass baking pan. Combine chili sauce, vinegar, water and sugar. Add prepared mustard, pepper, garlic salt, chili con carne seasoning and Old Hickory Smoked Salt. Heat slightly and stir until completely blended. Add melted butter and toasted onions. Pour over chicken and let marinate for several hours. Barbecue slowly over glowing coals, turning frequently and brushing with marinade. Cook about 40 minutes or until chickens are done. Sprinkle with additional Old Hickory Smoked Salt, if desired.

Pack Peanut Butter Date Bar Lunches

Pack "Peanut Butter Date Bars" in school lunch boxes to perk up noontime meals. Two favorites with the youngsters, peanut butter and fresh California dates, give wonderful flavor to these bar cookies. Keep a supply of energy-boosting California dates on hand, too, for after-school snacks with milk.

Peanut Butter Date Bars

1 cup California dates
½ cup peanut butter
¼ cup butter
1 cup brown sugar, packed
2 eggs
½ teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder

Cut dates into pieces. Cream peanut butter, butter and brown well blended. Add eggs and vanilla; beat until light. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Blend into egg mixture; stir in dates. Press into greased 9-inch square baking pan. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 25 minutes. Cool. Cut into bars to serve.

Makes 27 (3x1-inch) bars.

Aspic Is Pretty, And Also a Treat

In love with some of summer's most delicious offerings? Then this aspic is one you may enjoy trying.

All green and pink, it is as pretty as a flowering world. And it's delicate in flavor because it uses avocado and fresh salmon.

To prepare it, you edge a mold with strips of the avocado. Then you fill the mold with a clear aspic made from the salmon plus the stock in which it was cooked.

For this dish we used a widely available one-quart mold that we favor because its surface is corrugated and it has a cover. Strips of avocado fit nicely into the corrugations.

You'll notice in the recipe directions that we say, at one point, to "correct the seasoning." This term, as you probably know, is a chef's favorite way of urging a cook to "taste and add salt and pepper — or other seasoning—if needed."

AVOCADO SALMON ASPIC

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
Water
1 pound onion, coarsely chopped
1 rib celery, quartered
1 bay leaf
8 allspice
1 teaspoon salt
1 avocado
Salad greens and lemon wedges

Sprinkle the gelatin over ¼ cup cold water to soften.

In a saucepan put 1½ cups cold water, the salmon, onion, celery, bay leaf, allspice and salt. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer until fish flakes easily—about 20 minutes. Remove salmon, reserving stock. Skin, bone and separate fish into fairly large chunks.

Strain stock; measure and, if necessary, add enough boiling water to make 1¼ cups. Correct seasoning. Stir together the hot stock and softened gelatin until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in salmon.

Halve avocado lengthwise; remove skin and seed. Slice lengthwsie. Arrange slices upright in a 1-quart mold. Turn salmon mixture into mold, spooning a little of the clear aspic around sides to coat avocado. Chill until firm.

Unmold and garnish with salad greens. Serve with lemon wedges. Pass mayonnaise or French dressing if you like. Makes 6 servings.

Green Pepper Zucchini
Bread Tray
Tapioca Cream Beverage

GREEN PEPPER ZUCCHINI

1 pound (4 small) zucchini
1 medium green pepper
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper to taste

Cut tips from zucchini; scrub in cold water; slice into thin rounds. Quarter green pepper and seed; cut into ½-inch wide crosswise strips. Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet; add zucchini and green pepper; sti to coat with butte. Add wate and salt; cover and cook gently until vegetables are tender and water evaporates. Add freshly ground pepper. Makes four servings.

FROM SPANISH CUISINE — Breast of veal, boned and stuffed with ground beef.

Economical Veal Breast Is Tasty

HERE'S AN economical dish, a stuffed breast of veal, that is prepared ahead and reheated at the cook's convenience.

This Spanish recipe was adapted from a cook book compiled and published in Madrid. The original directions specify the use of a pressure cooker. When we tested this method in our kitchen, we found it yielded tender meat in a short time.

STUFFED VEAL BREAST

2½ pounds boned breast of veal (4 pounds before boning)
½ pound chopped beef chuck
1½ teaspoons salt
Pepper to taste
1 egg, slightly beaten
10 green olives, pitted and chopped
¼ cup olive oil
3 cloves garlic, peeled
1 medium onion, quartered
1 small carrot, quartered
1 bay leaf
2 tablespoons tomato catchup
½ cup white wine
1 cup water

Lay veal flat; trim any ragged edges. Mix beef with ½-teaspoon of the salt, the pepper, egg and olives. Press beef mixture flat over veal to within ½-inch from edges. Roll up veal, tucking in edges; tie with cord. In a pressure pan, brown veal in the olive oil with the garlic; discard garlic. Add onion, carrot, bay leaf, catchup, wine, water and remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Cook in pressure pan at 15 pounds pressure for 20 minutes; allow pressure to return to normal. Remove meat, cover and chill. Puree vegetables and liquid in electric blender. Slice cold meat thin and reheat in sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

George Mardikian's Life Colorful As History

The story of George Mardikian's life is as colorful as the history of his native country, Hayastan, the ancient name of Armenia. Since coming to America in 1922, he has travelled all over the United States and several times around the world studying the art of creating fine food which has made him the internationally famous food authority that he is today. As food consultant to the United States Army, Readers Digest conferred on him the title "Champion of G.I. Chow." His best seller book on foods, "Dinner at Omar Khayyam's, and his new book, "Song of America," published by McGrow-Hill, tell his true life story. These books are availabe at Mr. Mardikian's world famed Omar Khayyam's restaurant in San Francisco and in local book stoes . . . The Smothers Brothers, fresh from record-breaking appearances at the Salt Lake City Lagoon, the Illinois State Fair and the Broadmoor Hotel, are proving a smash hit in the Venetian Room of the Fairmont Hotel.

MUSICAL RAVES have reached this office on Nick Gust's new organist, Don Kelly, who has already attracted many new faces to this Pacifica club . . . On your next visit to the Black Egg, note the oil paintings that adorn the walls (not collector's items) with a sly dig for clean fun, such as the smiling Mona Lisa with eyes crossed watching a fly that has come to a "four point" landing on her nose. This is a fun spot to be sure. "Draft Beer With Atmosphere" is the slogan . . . Last call for Hoberg's and Seigler Springs vacationists. It will pay you to check their September rates. This month is one of Lake County's most beautiful. So pack the bags and get a move on . . . Ron Giannotti has everything in the way of comfort for his Surf House patrons — including rocking chairs in the cocktail lounge which are not limited to senior citizens only. The new upper level private room which will preem in about three weeks will lend a Polynesian atmosphere to the scene . . . An extra-special smorgasbord treat awaits you at the El Granada Princeton Inn every Wednesday evening from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. It's presented in a very unusual manner.

THE GOLDEN GATE CHAPTER OF THE 82ND AIRBORNE DIVISION is having a 20-year anniversary celebration Saturday, September 12, at the International Inn Restaurant, 9 p.m., in honor of the Holland invasion of September 17, 1944. This was the first major campaign of the Allied Airborne Army. All members of the 1st Allied Airborne are invited, their ladies, and guests. Dancing will follow. This will be quite an event for International Inn Restaurant Manager, Phil Rauscher, who was a member of the 82nd Airborne Division . . . Due to popular demand: Jimme and Rich Romanello will have the Beau Brummels bandstanding on Sunday as well as Wednesday through Thursday at the Morocco Room. If you like the Beatles, you'll love the Beau Brummels, say they. Fact is, even if you don't like the Beatles, you'll enjoy the Beau Brummels . . . Plenty of musical action at Nick Gust's restaurant acres in Pacifica. The Hi-Lites and The Islanders supply the musical notes at the Turtle. Across the street at Nick's, Bill Kane's 3 Beats toot dance tunes.

Phil Rauscher

BARNEY O'MALIA, owner of Barney's Casino in Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada, is in San Francisco, this week, to attend a bridge session at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. Barney plans to team up with Peninsula's Ed Koufman, Ed's Chuck Wagon boss. Believe me, when these two experts get together, "spades are trumps" . . . The Carnival Room at the Golden Casino, in downtown Reno, is featuring Ginny and The Gallons, one of the most popular instrumental-vocal groups on the Nevada circuit today. Rex Gallon, leader of the group, is a superb artist, and displays his fine talents on guitar, mandolin and bass. Rounding out the group are Johnny Hamlin and Dick Green. . . . Champions of the Nevada Centennial "Grand Grape Stamping Contest," held in Tonopah, Saturday, are Jill Jenkins and Questa Donnelly.

THE BANQUET SITUATION is well under control at the Hyatt House in Burlingame. General Manager Ed Sullivan anounced that a separate building containing its own kitchen and cocktail bar, that has been designed with 4,000 square feet of open meeting space, will make its debut on Sunday, September 13. It also divides into four separate rooms, each room completely equipped with its own sound system, light rheostats, heat and air conditioning controls, etc. No expense has been spared to give the public the ultimate in modern day conveniences. The capacity has not been of the rooms, individually, will break into established, but will hold 400 for dinner. Each 25x40-foot meting rooms. Holiday reservations may be made—and I suggest you don't delay. . . . Phil Lehr predicts the biggest Fall season ever for restaurants—judging from the extra-heavy advance bookings in his banquet rooms. . . . The two dining rooms at Bruno Scatena's Joe's of Westlake expedite an evening table wait. I like to eat at the counter and watch th xponents of cuisine know-how while they prepare the food. . . . The Brentwood Lodge dining room is not open on Monday evenings. However, bar service as usual. . . . The Catch XIII is another example of how popular the pizza, beer, and Friday and Saturday night entertainment policy is proving to be. There's a 'Swim Contest" with The Mardels on Monday nights.

Ed Sullivan

Vicky Alvarez Uses Her Head

Sexy Vicky Alvarez uses her "head" every night in the Sinaloa floor shows. She lets down her long black hair and pilots by hand in "Swim" fashion—never missing a hip beat.

When you crave a Mexican food spread, its my pleasure to recommend Pancho's in Redwood City. The authentic dishes are prepared with your dining satisfaction in mind. It's a meal that will bring you back again and again.

Lew Lehr wonders if anyone has noticed that the new Prudential Life skyscraper going up on California Street near Grant Avenue looks exactly like four Hershey milk chocolate bars standing on end. Sure does!

Sign on the desk of Enrico Romano's secretary at his Pacifica restaurant: "Gone for the day. Will be in for lunch and coffee breaks."

Stan Getz Next

Frankie Laine will be top spotted at Paul Catalana's San Jose Safari Room Monday, Sept. 7, and will be followed by tenor saxist Stan Getz, and Astrud Gilberto. Getz is one of the giants of jazz and has many albums to his credit. You're always sure of a great show and an extra-special dinner at the Safari Room.

Vince's Restaurant Opening Sept. 15-16

Vince Licata has contractors working 'round the clock to finish his new dining room and bar. But, alas, they won't be ready for a September 9 opening. However, Vince assures me that Tuesday, Sept. 15, and Wednesday, Sept. 16, will be the days of celebration. So plan ahead and be among those on hand for the fun.

No lull in business at the Caravan Inn in Mountain View. General Manager Betty Sedam has entertainment, food and comfortable room accommodations available. A reservation will set you right in for the fun time of your ilfe.

Keith Williamson Puts in Long Shift

Since Keith Williamson added the $1.49 steak dinner to his already well-balanced menu, "sparks" have been flying from the knife and fork action at this Burlingame eatery. It couldn't happen to a nicer gent. Keith toils in the kitchen from opening to closing to give you personal service.

"Dapper Dan" vote of the month goes to Frank Dennison, general manager of the ultra-swank Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn. His golden sport jacket brown slacks, brown tie, alligator shoes and winning smile put him in the "winners' circle."

Food Boom for Club Shore-Vu

Club Shore-Vu is enjoying one of the biggest food booms since the "Open for Biz" sign went up. Chef Art King and John Jacobson have a winning combination with their "All you can eat" luncheon—$1; dinner, $1.50. Quality and quantity at a low price. Plenty of free parking space. P. S. Bring the kids.

The Keys Fit The Wrong Car

If Mrs. Emily Bassler of 780 North Mayfair Avenue, Daly City, was seeing blue Oldsmobiles in her sleep this week, you could forgive her.

She won't easily forget two of them she confused last Wednesday.

Mrs. Bassler had asked a neighbor, Mrs. May Greenwell of 237 Glenwood Avenue, if she could put her just-repaired vacuum cleaner in the back of Mrs. Greenwell's auto. It would save her carrying it home, she said.

Mrs. Greenwell, an employe of the Bank of America branch in the Westlake Shopping Center, cheerily agreed and handed Mrs. Bassler the keys to her car.

It's the blue Oldsmobile parked out in the lot," she said, and off went Mrs. Bassler, vacuum cleaner in hand.

She walked up to a blue Oldsmobile, unlocked the car with the keys, placed the cleaner in the back, relocked the car, returned the keys, and walked home. That's the last time she saw the cleaner.

For Mrs. Bassler had placed the cleaner in the wrong car—even though the keys had fit.

When the mistake was discovered a little later on Mrs. Greenwell's lunch hour, the two women drove hurriedly back to the parking lot but the other blue Oldsmobile was gone.

RESOLUTION NO. 64-8-17b
BOARD OF TRUSTEES, JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT, COUNTY OF SAN MATEO, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO QUITCLAIM CERTAIN REAL PROPERTY TO THE CITY OF DALY CITY FOR STREET PURPOSES

RESOLVED, by the Board of Trustees of the JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT, an elementary school district of the County of San Mateo, State of California, that

WHEREAS, the JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT is the owner of certain real property situated in the City of Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, said property being that more particularly described hereinbelow; and

WHEREAS, it is deemed desirable to quitclaim said property to the City of Daly City, a municipal corporation of the State of California, for street purposes, said conveyance to be pursuant to the authority of Sections 16251 et seq. of the Education Code of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, the property proposed to be conveyed is not needed by said school district for school or classroom purposes;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY DETERMINED AND ORDERED as follows:

1. The real property hereinafter described is owned by the JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT.

2. The property hereinafter described and proposed to be quitclaimed to the City of Daly City is not needed by the JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT for school or classroom purposes.

3. It is the intention of this Board of Trustees to execute a quitclaim deed to the property hereinafter described, said quitclaim deed to convey said property without monetary compensation, to the City of Daly City, a municipal corporation of the State of California, for street purposes. Said real property is particularly described as follows:

A portion of a portion of Gambetta Street as said Street is shown on that certain Map entitled "Map of the Lands of the Abbey Homestead Association" Filed in the office of The Recorder of the County of San Mateo, State of California, on January 2, 1872, in Book 15 of Deeds, at Pages 2 and 3, and a copy entered in Book "B" of Maps, at page 43 and a copy entered in Book 1 of Maps, at page 14, as said portion of Gambetta Street was abandoned by the Resolution No. 2775 of the City Council of the City of Daly City, State of California and recorded in Book 3775 of the Official Record, of the County of San Mateo, State of California, at page 210, more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at the intersection of the southerly line of Gambetta Street with the westerly line of Lausanne Street (formerly Geneva Street) as said streets are shown on the aforesaid Map: thence from said Point of Beginning along said southerly line of Gambetta Street, South 87° 38' 30" West 70.00 feet; leaving said line easterly, tangent to the last said course on the arc of a curve to the left, with a radius of 130.00 feet, subtending a central angle of 39° 42' 54", an arc distance of 90.11 feet to the center line of Gambetta Street; thence along said centerlinie North 87° 38' 30" East 49.38 feet; leaving said centerline of Gambetta Street southwesterly, from a tangent bearing South 36° 19' 26" West on the arc of a curve to the right with a radius of 80.00 feet, subtending a central angle of 51° 19' 04", an arc distance of 71.65 feet to the point of BEGINNING.

Containing: 1701 square feet, more or less.

4. At 8:00 o'clock P. M. of MONDAY, the 14th day of SEPTEMBER, 1964, at the regular meeting place of this Board, said Board will hold a public hearing upon the question of the aforementioned proposed conveyance.

5. The Clerk of this Board is hereby directed to post copies of this resolution, signed by at least a majority of the members of this Board, in three public places in the district, not less than ten days before the aforementioned hearing, and to publish a copy of the same not less than five days before the date of said meeting in THE POST, a newspaper of general circulation in the district.

RESOLUTION NO. 64-8-17c
BOARD OF TRUSTEES, JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT, COUNTY OF SAN MATEO, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

RESOLVED, by the Board of Trustees of the JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT, an elementary school district of the County of San Mateo, State of California, that

WHEREAS, the JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT is the owner of certain real property situated in the City of Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, said property being that more particularly described hereinbelow; and

WHEREAS, it is deemed desirable to quitclaim said property to the City of Daly City, a municipal corporation of the State of California, for street purposes, said conveyance to be pursuant to the authority of Sections 16251, et seq., of the Education Code of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, the property proposed to be conveyed is not needed by said school district for school or classroom purposes;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY DETERMINED AND ORDERED as follows:

1. The real property hereinafter described is owned by the JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT.

2. The property hereinafter described and proposed to be quitclaimed to the City of Daly City is not needed by the JEFFERSON SCHOOL DISTRICT for school or classroom purposes.

3. It is the intention of this Board of Trustees to execute a quitclaim deed to the property hereinafter described, said quitclaim deed to convey said property without monetary compensation to the City of Daly City, a municipal corporation of the State of California, for street purposes. Said real property is particularly described as follows:

PARCEL A

A portion of Skyline Drive, more particularly described as follows: BEGINNING AT A POINT which bears North 88° 46' West 28.87 feet from the southwesterly corner of Lot 1 in Block 179, as said Lot and Block are shown on that certain map entitled "Westlake Unit No. 11B, Daly City, San Mateo County, California" filed April 6, 1961 in Volume 54 of Maps at page 37, San Mateo County Records; running thence from said POINT OF BEGINNING, southerly, on the arc of a curve to the left, from a tangent bearing South 3° 04' East, with a radius of 400 feet, subtending a central angle of 04° 51' 56", an arc distance of 145.67 feet; South 23° 56' East 585.59 feet; on the arc of a curve to the right, tangent to the preceding course, with a radius of 150 feet, subtending a central angle of 90° 00', an arc distance of 235.62 feet; South 66° 04' West 446.27 feet; North 23° 56' West 30.00 feet; North 66° 04' East 446.27 feet; on the arc of a curve to the left, tangent to the last preceding course, with a radius of 120 feet, subtending a central angle of 90° 00', an arc distance of 188.50 feet; North 23° 56' West 585.59 feet; on the arc of a curve to the right, tangent to the last preceding course, with a radius of 430 feet, subtending a central angle of 18° 47' 14", an arc distance of 141.00 feet to a point of reverse curvature; on the arc of a curve to the left, from a tangent bearing North 5° 08' 46" West, with a radius of 20 feet, subtending a central angle of 83° 37' 14", an arc distance of 29.19 feet to a point in the southerly line of that certain map entitled "Westlake Unit No. 11A, Daly City, San Mateo County, California" filed October 19, 1959 in Volume 52 of Maps at pages 23 and 24, San Mateo County Records; thence along the southerly line of said map, South 88° 46' East 48.34 feet to the POINT OF BEGINNING.

PARCEL B.

A portion of Longview Drive, more particularly described as follows: BEGINNING AT POINT in the southerly line of that certain map entitled "Westlake Unit No. 11A, Daly City, San Mateo County, California", filed October 19, 1959 in Volume 52 of Maps at pages 23 and 24, San Mateo County Records, which point bears South 1° 14' west 30.00 feet from the intersection of the centerline of Longview Drive and Belcrest Avenue as shown on said map; running thence from said POINT OF BEGINNING along the southerly prolongation of the centerline of said Longview Drive, South 1° 14' West 170.00 feet; thence leaving said line South 88° 46' East 25.00 feet; North 1° 14' East 150.00 feet; on the arc of a curve to the right, tangent to the last preceding course, with a radius of 20 feet, subtending a central angle of 90° 00', an arc distance of 31.42 feet to a point in the aforesaid southerly line of Westlake Unit No. 11A; thence along said southerly line, North 88° 46' West 45.00 feet to the POINT OF BEGINNING.

4. At 8:00 o'clock P. M. of MONDAY, the 14th day of SEPTEMBER, 1964, at the regular meeting place of this Board, said Board will hold a public hearing upon the question of the aforementioned proposed conveyance.

5. The Clerk of this Board is hereby directed to post copies of this resolution, signed by at least a majority of the members of this Board, in three public places in the district, not less than ten days before the aforementioned hearing, and to publish a copy of the same not less than five days before the date of said meeting in THE POST, a newspaper of general circulation in the district.

O'Connor and Strom Named In Pacifica

Two new commissioners were appointed last week by the Pacifica City Council — Cornelius "Pat" O'Connor and Kenneth Strom.

O'Connor, who lives at 251 Gateway Drive, will replace Sam Turpin on the Planning Commission. Turpin resigned last month because of health reasons.

Strom will take over as a safety commissioner, a post held by O'Connor until his new appointment to the Planning Commission.

A resident of the Fairmont subdivision, O'Connor moved there about 18 months ago from Mountain View where he had served as a president of a P-TA, and as a representative for the Cub Scouts of America.

City Councilman James Fox said O'Connor's Fairmont residence was considered an important factor in his appointment.

"We wanted a representative from the northern section of the community and O'Connor was our best choice," Fox stated.

O'Connor has been a frequent visitor at City Council and Planning Commission meetings.

He and his wife, Polly, have three children, Debbie, Craig and Sean.

Strom has been a member of the Pacifica community for a half dozen years and has been active in civic affairs, Fox stated.

He has participated in several political campaigns and was active on the police, fire, civil defense and disaster study commissions.

He also was elected at large for two terms as a member of the Democratic Central Committee and was former president of the Pacifica Democrats.

He and his wife, Jonie, reside at 867 Standish Road. They are the parents of a teen-age daughter, Stephanie.

"We consider Strom a real asset to Pacifica in that he has exerted the interest and energy necessary to run for elective office and win," Fox remarked.

He also has always been ready to volunteer to help whenever and wherever needed, Fox added.

"We feel that this is an important attribute of both Strom and O'Connor. They have always volunteered to help the community in any capacity."

D.C. Father Faces Charge

A Daly City man was charged with assault with a deadly weapon Thursday evening, after his son told police that the father had fired a shot at him—and missed — during a family argument.

Arrested was John J. Stack, 59, of 95 Northridge Drive. He was released on $550 bail and ordered to appear for a hearing at 2 p.m. Monday in Northern Judicial District Court.

The son, Robert, 20, told police that during the argument, he stuck his head through the kitchen doorway and saw his father pointing a gun at him.

He ducked back, he said, seconds before a shot rang out.

Police found a bullet hole in a hallway wall near the kitchen door. They confiscated a .38 caliber revolver.

SILVER DOLLAR TAKEN

Orville Decker of 600 Higate Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had stolen a silver dollar from his home.

Is Your Job Obsolete?
Have you ever considered INSURANCE as a career? Well, you really should! According to a recent independent survey which appeared in July 1963 issue of McCall's, insurance heads the list of bright future jobs. This could be your year to jump from that status-quo or dead-end job into a bright future with FARMERS INSURANCE GROUP. Interested? No previous experience necessary, we will train you. We will be pleased to outline our program for you. Contact George P. Bugnato, District Manager, 2332 El Camino, S.M. 341-5848 for an appointment.

The Times'

family of employees—235 in all—make up a payroll of nearly $2,000,000 per year, one of the largest in the County. Almost all is spent for San Mateo County homes, food, automobiles and commodities, since over 95 percent of The Times' family of employees make San Mateo County their home.

The Times pays its share to help create good local and county government

Like all responsible San Mateo County families, we pay taxes to help finance our city and county governments. Last year, The Times paid over $250,000 in local, county, state and federal taxes. Times employees contributed another $250,000. This money went a long way toward making your community a better place in which to live.

Someone from The Times is probably your neighbor

Almost one household in every hundred has a representative of The Times living in it. There are over 1250 people who work for The Times—235 as employees, 571 Times carrier boys, 438 Post carriers, as well as numerous other correspondents, free lance photographers, etc. Our 1250 associates certainly make up one of the biggest families in San Mateo County.

Take part in local government? You're darn right The Times does!

The Times, like all good citizens, enjoys taking part in its local government. Just look at your community organizations, churches, and clubs, too. You can bet that a man or woman from The Times is actively engaged in helping to get things done. Besides placing all important issues before its readers, every day The Times speaks out editorially on important local, state and national problems.

Being a "Family" Newspaper Means We Have to Keep Growing!

It's the only way to keep up with the families on the growing, bustling, dynamic Peninsula—the second richest area in California. Today The Times is undergoing a $1,250,000 expansion program, with a beautiful new plant nearing completion on South Bayshore Blvd. Last year alone, The Times used 3,437 tons of newsprint to publish its 10,958 pages of news and advertising for you and your family. Advertising was at an all-time high, 14,830,606 lines. It's easy of see why The Times is such an important part of life on the Peninsula.

The Times is already the 'Blue Ribbon Newspaper' for more than 33,000 families

WATCH US GROW!

We're proud to be a part of the San Mateo County Family . . . part of your family every day of the week
